

BOOK-3

Birth of Secret Society

“So have no fear of them, for nothing is covered that will not be revealed, or hidden that will not be known. What I tell you in the dark, say in the light, and what you hear whispered, proclaim on the housetops. And do not fear those who kill the body but cannot kill the soul. Rather fear him who can destroy both soul and body in hell.”

—Matthew 10:26–28

From this passage, it's easy to recognize the annoyance that God has towards things of a secret nature. Secret societies have been present on Earth for thousands of years. It all began with the fallen angels of Atla (Atlantis). Atla was initially a secret place free of humans, intended for guidance from Gods angels, for the purity of Baal's fallen angels. It was a place of technology that far exceeded our current technology today.

Before the fallen angels presence here on Earth, God sent angels to guide and rule the new formed, man. These angels were called Kings. The Son of I AM watched over the Kings and he was know as, “The King of Kings,” according to “Revelations of the Metatron (page 147). These Kings developed enormous stone structures in high places, while the humans lived below them.

Angels, both fallen and good, held a unique secret in cutting and moving large stones. Man would later possess these techniques, keeping the technique a secret along with other astrological secrets. They possessed secrets of energy to gain power and control over vast civilians. Nimrod and his mother-wife, Semiramis, led the first secret society. This government, ideology and mystery religion then moved into Egypt where most of the modern world emulated the core principles of the ancient ways of Babylonian living.

Egypt: Babylon Rebirth

The evil trinity of Nimrod, Semiramis and Tammuz was rebirth in Egypt as Osiris, Isis and Horus. Ancient Egypt worshipped close to 9,000 gods. There was approximately 64 main Egyptian gods known throughout all of Egypt, but almost every village in Egypt had it's own gods. When a new Pharaoh came into power, the whole culture recognized his gods as the best, so these “So-called” gods were always changing. However, most of these were just very minor deities worshipped only in particular places for short amounts of time. Many of them were similar, with the same animal head or basic depiction. For example, not all falcon statues found in Egypt are Horus, but instead, several other gods formed throughout ancient time. The most famous Deities known even today, was the deities that followed Ra. Here is the order of the most famous deities of ancient Egypt.

- Ra.....King of gods
- Nut.....Sky goddess, mother of Osirus
- Geb.....Earth god, father of Osiris
- Thoth.....God of wisdom
- Silene.....Moon goddess
- Osiris.....King of the dead
- Horus.....Brother of Osiris
- Seth.....Evil brother of Osiris
- Harpocrates.....Horus the infant, son of Osiris
- Isis.....Sister and wife of Osiris
- Nephtys.....Sister of Osiris

These are true, and some mythical accounts of what took place during these Deities. From Egypt, "Sun worship" continued throughout the world and is heavily present today, politically, economically and religiously.

Ra had a wife named Nut, but Nut was in love with the god Geb. When Ra found out about Nut's union with Geb, he became furious. In his anger, he forbids Nut to have children on any of the 360 days that made up the year during that time. Depressed, Nut reached out Thoth (a friend) who helped her. He knew that Ra's curse must be fulfilled, but he had an idea. Thoth engaged the moon goddess, Silene, in a wager. At the time, Silene's light (the moon) rivaled the light of Ra (the sun). Thoth succeeded and was rewarded with one-seventh of Silene's light. It's said, this is why the moon now wanes each month. Thoth took this light and added five days to the calendar, bringing the year from 360 days to 365. This gave Nut five days to conceive children, while at the same time obeying Ra's commandment. Nut gave birth to Osiris on the first day, and on the second day she gave birth to Horus. Seth was born on the third, Isis the fourth, and Nephtys on the fifth day. At the time of Osiris' birth, a loud voice was heard all over the world, saying, "The lord of all the earth is born."

Osiris grew and became a mighty king. He went about the job of civilizing his people. He taught them agriculture and animal husbandry. He gave them a code of laws to live by and showed them the proper ways in which to worship the gods. Egypt became a mighty land under his kind and gentle rule. His subjects gladly worshiped the ground on which he walked. When Egypt was civilized, Osiris left to bring his teachings to other lands. While Osiris was away, he left his wife, Isis, in charge. She ruled the country in the same fashion. Osiris' brother Seth was upset that Osiris didn't pick him to rule in his absence.

Seth began plotting against the great Osiris. He aligned himself with Aso, the queen of Ethiopia, and 72 other conspirators. But nothing could be done while Isis ruled the country. Upon Osiris' return, an evil plot was put into motion. Seth secretly acquired the measurements of Osiris and began having a decorated box built to fit his measurements. When the box was finished, Seth had a great feast and invited Osiris and the 72 conspirators, Osiris suspected nothing. When the feasting was done, Seth had the box brought out. He offered it as a gift to anyone whom the box fit. One at a time guest tried to fit into the box until it was Osiris' turn. He lay in the box suspecting nothing. The conspirators slammed the lid, nailed it closed, and poured molten lead into the seam killing Osiris. The chest was thrown into the Nile River.

Isis found out what had happened and mourned Osiris' death. She asked some children who were playing by the Nile. They told her where Seth and the conspirators had thrown the chest into the river. After further investigation, and consultation with some demons, Isis learns that the chest had floated out to sea, to the land of Byblos and become lodged in a tamarisk bush. As if by magic, the bush shot up and became a magnificent tree. The towering tree enclosed the ornate box within its huge trunk. The king of Byblos admired the great tree so much that he had it cut down and made into a giant pillar to support the roof of his palace.

Meanwhile, Isis makes her way to the land of Byblos to recover the body of her husband. In Byblos, Isis sits by a fountain and talks to no one, except the queen of Byblos' maidens. To these maidens she is quite pleasant. She braids their hair and breaths on them a wonderful perfume sweeter than the most fragrant flowers. Upon their return to the palace, the queen asks them, how they came by such wonderful perfume. They told her of the beautiful stranger they had met. The queen requested that Isis be brought to the palace where she was treated most graciously. She was appointed to be the nurse of one of the young princes.

Isis fed the young prince by giving him her finger to suck. Each night when the palace had retired Isis piled logs on a great fire, into which she would thrust the child. Then she would change into a swallow and flutter about mournfully chirping for her dead husband. Word of these strange happenings reached the queen. She could not believe these tales, so she decided to see for herself. That night, the queen hid herself, and found these stories to be true. Isis built another fire and thrust the child into it. The queen screamed in terror and tried to save the child. Isis turned on the queen, rebuking her sternly, and then revealed her true identity. She explained to the queen that with her magic she was tempering the child to become a god. But now his immortality was lost. Isis explained to the queen why she had made the journey to Byblos and her desire to have the giant pillar in which her husband was encased. The queen granted her wish.

The pillar was taken down, cut open, and the great box was revealed. Isis took the chest and returned to Egypt but the mighty pillar remained in Byblos and was worshiped from that day forward. When she arrived, she opened the box and wept over her dead husband. Her sister, Nephthys in her sorrow, joined her. The sisters turn into Kites and circle the chest screeching in mournful tones. But Isis' thoughts soon turned to her infant son, Harpocrates, Horus the Younger. She had left him in Buto and now had to retrieve him. She hid the box in a secret place, and went after her son.

That night, while hunting by the light of the moon, Seth stumbled upon the finely decorated box. He was blinded with rage at the sight of his brother. He ripped Osiris into fourteen pieces and scattered them throughout Egypt. Isis learns of this new crime, and her grief is renewed. She once again sets out to find her husband's remains. She used a boat made out of papyrus reeds to conduct her search. It was believed that, because of this, a crocodile would never attack a papyrus boat, fearing that it might contain the mighty goddess. Wherever she found a piece of Osiris, she buries it, and built a shrine in that place. This is why Osiris had so many tombs in Egypt.

Harpocrates has grown to manhood, and he is called Horus. Osiris has been resurrected as the king of the dead in the underworld. One day, Osiris appears to Horus in the land of the living. He convinces Horus to avenge the wrongs that have been committed by Seth. So, Horus tracks down Seth and a great battle begins. Victory is elusive and the battle victory turns from one side, to the other. It is said that this battle of good verses evil still rages, but some day, Horus will be victorious and on that day, Osiris will return to rule the world.

Today, we marvel over Egypt's ancient history. A history that began setting up social classes as Babylonian's did. The Greek mixed their gods with Egyptian gods and we marvel over Greek and early Roman history. These are histories that were shrouded in mystery and secrecy. These are histories of lost souls who did not believe in the true God, I AM. There is not one story of an Egyptian tribe of people who worshiped the Almighty God.

Kabbalah /Cabala/ Qabalah

Solomon, son of King David, was a righteous and wise King who was close to God. His fault came in his lust for women. He had over 700 wives and 300 concubines made up of various nationalities. God didn't like the comingling of some of the tribes of women married to Solomon, because He knew that these women of foreign nations worshiped idols and other gods. These women were known to change the heart of their men, as some did to Solomon.

Years after Solomon's death, an age-old argument arose about how King Solomon received his knowledge and wisdom, as he ruled in Jerusalem over Israel for 40-years. In the bible, 1 Kings, chapters 1-11, we see a sound illustration of King Solomon's life, and his relationship with God. Years after his death, there's an account that I would perceive as part true, part legend, to how the freemasons came into existence.

The Hebrews and their descendents brought religion and ideologies of the Egyptians (who incorporated The Mystery Religion of Babylon), and mixed it with their own philosophy in what is now referred to as the Kabbalah (Hebrew meaning, "To receive"). King Solomon, after learning this, commanded these people to bring all the idols, scrolls, and sigils (magic) of this mysticism to the steps of Solomon's Temple. Solomon then ordered these relics sealed (buried) beneath his throne, so the argument is, did Solomon receive his wisdom from God or the Kabbalah relics. Because the relics had dogma from a satanic religion (The Mystery Religion), it would be good to acknowledge God as the instructor of wisdom and knowledge, on behalf of Solomon. Like his father, King David (of David and Goliath), Solomon was after God's heart.

As described by some historians, after Solomon died, his temple was demolished and the throne was cast down the hill. This is when the resting place for the Kabbalah (Body of God) was discovered. It was believed that this is where King Solomon truly received his wisdom and not directly from God as it's written in the Bible.

Kabbalah claims a divine authorship, though it probably originated in the 12th century A.D. Allegedly, the three separate occasions through three different men. Adam was the first to receive the teaching through the Archangel Raziel as Adam and Eve were expelled from the Garden of Eden. But, because people were more interested in the ways of the world than the totality of God, the truth of Kabbalah was eventually lost. In "The Secret Doctrine of the Kabbalah," written by Leonora Leet, she writes that Kabbalah is derived from ancient Hebraic priesthood practices that have the goal of human transformation.

Abraham (around 1700 B.C.) was the second to receive the truth of Kabbalah. Melchizedek supposedly initiated Abraham into Kabbalistic mysticism. Kabbalah was part of the covenant that God made with Abraham. After his descendants became enslaved in Egypt, Kabbalah was once again lost.

The third and final revelation of Kabbalah was given to Moses when he went to Mount Sinai to meet with, God. The first time was when Moses went up he received the Ten Commandments. The second time Moses went up, he received the Kabbalah, according to "The Practical Kabbalah Guidebook." The Zohar states, "When Torah was transmitted to Moses, myriads of celestial angels came to scorch him with flames from their Mouths, but the blessed Holy One sheltered him."

Kabbalists refer to the Mosaic encounters as the outer and inner teaching. The first encounter of Moses with God is when he received the Ten Commandments. This is called the outer teaching. It was upon the second encounter with God that Moses received the Kabbalistic truths. This is referred to as the inner teaching.

Throughout history, Kabbalists have chosen to keep their esoteric interpretations of the Torah hidden from the general population and religious leaders of their day. Many of the Kabbalists' were persecuted. Many others knew that their teachings contradicted "Accepted," Jewish and Christian theologies. Therefore, they practiced a self-expressed silence.

Kabbalah did survive and was passed down through the centuries. Originally, only Jewish men, who were 40 years old or older, could study Kabbalah, but later this restriction was abandoned.

The earliest documented Kabbalistic writing is called the Sepher Yetzirah, or The Book of Formation. One tradition is that Abraham wrote the book, placed it in a cave, and it was discovered later and published as the Sepher Yetzirah. Another tradition says that the Rabbi Akiva wrote it. He's said to be one of the greatest Kabbalists of all time.

Moses De Leon (a 14th century Spanish Kabbalist) presented the Zohar, which is an extremely influential book in Kabbalistic philosophy. De Leon originally claimed that he found the scrolls that had been written much earlier, more than a thousand years earlier. Recent scholars support the idea that he is the one who wrote the Zohar.

Kabbalah is said to have descended through John Dee (1527-1608) who was a mathematician and geographer and Isaac Luria (1534-1572) who he is commonly referred to as the greatest Kabbalist of modern times. Contributors were Chayim Vital (1543-1620), Shabbetai Zvi (1626-1676), Gaon of Vilna (1720-1797), Rabbi Ashlag (1886-1955), and others.

Today Kabbalah has become popularized by such writers as Yehuda Berg and has spread to the Internet and television. Many traditional Jewish cabalists condemn contemporary Kabbalah movements as fanciful and overly popularized misrepresentations of authentic Kabbalistic philosophy. Whichever the case, today's Kabbalah is definitely more of a new age than biblical. Even though modern popularized Kabbalah has been condemned by traditional cabalists, readings from the Zohar (which is several hundred years old), is at the heart of Kabbalah, and reveals theology reminiscent of the new age including reincarnation, inner divinity, pantheism, etc.

Kabbalah has evolved into a negative fashion. It has evolved from one sacrilege, deeper into another. It is no longer biblical and stands as a false religion. In Book-8 under the section, "Award Shows," I will explain its connection with the Knights Templar.

Freemason

"And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws..."

"Neither shall he regard the God of his father, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all."

"But in his estate shall he honour the God of Forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things."

-Daniel 7:25; 11:37,38 (KJV)

Secrete societies originated during the days of Nimrod as illustrated in Book-1. The Babylonian time period lays the foundation for understanding any secret society, past an present. In a published book titled, "The Two Babylons: The Papal Worship," written by Reverend Alexander Hislop, he states that secret societies can be traced back to Nimrod, who became (after his death), the "First of deified mortals" (Page 32).

Nimrod established a satanic system of idolatry openly, causing many people to flock to this worship. During this time, the predominant spiritual system that ruled the world was the worship of, God. Soon after, Nimrod established his alternative religion, based upon witchcraft and idolatry. Shem (Noah's son) was motivated by God to remove Nimrod and his secret religion from Earth. Shem attacked Nimrod, defeated him, and took him prisoner. Shem executed Nimrod and many of his satanic priests and followers. As an example of his victory, Shem ordered Nimrod's body to be cut into pieces. Each of these pieces was sent throughout the known world to demonstrate to everyone, that the worship of Satan through idolatry and witchcraft would not be tolerated. The world seemed safe from this gesture of evil, but Semiramis (Nimrod's mother and wife), would quickly change the safety of the world as she took over Nimrod's reign.

Semiramis, along with surviving priests, joined forces to create a secret underground religion. They deified Nimrod, creating a counterfeit to the prophecy of the true Messiah, Son of I AM. They created a system of Satanic Mysteries destined to spread over the entire world. The teachings of these "Mysteries," as they came to be called, very delicately led men back to the very system of Nimrod's magic and idolatry, which Shem had so strongly attacked. This false path was made appealing to men by promising them hidden knowledge, by enticing them with the allure of keeping such knowledge secret, and binding them together with severe oaths and secret signs and handshakes.

Secret societies, started several generations after the great flood in approximately 2,200 B.C. They have existed, for over 10,000 years of human history. They are known as Satan's church. These societies are absolutely opposed to every part of God's plan for mankind, and were committed to destroying it. This commitment of destruction to God's system was articulated in a positive manner allowing members to become deceived into thinking that they were actually trying to accomplish "Good." God warns, in Isaiah 5:20 "Woe unto them that call evil good and good evil..." This verse has direct relations to the Catholic Church (another false religion), and all religions that deceive man into paganism, and darkness.

One fraternity has infiltrated the Catholic Church and other fraternities who strongly believe in the deception of man, in guiding him to worship Satan. Together, they are amongst the global powers and elite of the world today. They are the Masonic order commonly called, Freemasons.

Origins of Freemasonry

"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."
-Ephesians 6:12

A naïve man just joining this fraternity with minimum studying would probably say that Freemasonry began in 1717 in London. However, 1717 is only relevant to the organization of the first four lodges and the construction of London's Grand Lodge. The truth is, the start date of Freemasonry has been lost in history. There is currently no documentation to date that provides a start date for freemasonry. The word, "Freemason," was coined in England, but over a hundred years prior to the word Freemason, Freemasonry was the word present in Scotland between the death of Robert Cochrane in 1482 and the death of Stuart (King James I) in 1625.

Masonic members who become Luciferian members, which is beyond 33 degrees, will acknowledge Nimrod as the first true Mason. He was the first to build the Tower of Babel and it's from him that all false religions stem. Then Masonry was taught through The Egyptian Mystery Religion of Isis and Osiris. It moved through King Solomon's Temple and Hiram the widow's son. Then it moved into Greece, known there as, The Rite of Eleusis (the Mystery Religion of Greece). A Mystery Religion is any religion that requires proof of secret initiative, like Temple Mormonism for example.

Anyone can join or walk into a Mormon church, but in order to enter into the depths of a Mormon Temple, you must provide an initiatic card, called a Temple Recommend. Masonry then moved into The Dionysian Artificers. An artificer is a fancy word for builders. These members were architect and masons who worshiped the god, Dionysian (the Greek god of wine and orgies). During mid century B.C., the Kabbalah/Qabalah, which is Jewish mysticism, and finally came Gnosticism, which is Grecian Gnosticism. These are all of secret religions that contributed to modern day Freemasonry.

During the medieval period in the year 1000, there was a different group called The Hashishim (the word assassin derived from Hashishim). This was the worlds first modern day occult, and secret society. The Knight and commingled initiations with Hashishim, who was already located in the Middle East. The Knights Templar brought these commingled initiations back to America. Around the same time, these different initiations and information worked its way into the Stone Masons' Guild, so if you look at any great Cathedrals in Europe, you will see them littered with several Pagan symbols, built by the Stone Masons. They were concealing Masonic mysteries in gargoyles, owls, and an assortment of phallus symbols, demons and unicorns seen all over the Cathedrals.

Finally, The Brothers of the Rosie Cross (also known today as the Rosicrucian) was developed. The Rosicrucian was the inheritor of the secrets of the Rites of the Templar. The first reported use of the word, "Mason," in the history of the English language involves the Rosicrucian. Henry Adamson wrote a poem called, The Muses Threnodie. In this poem he wrote, "For we be brethren of the Rosie Cross and we have the Mason word, and second sight." Second sight refers to physic abilities, ESP or paranormal powers. The "Mason word," is the secret lost word of Masonry.

During the early modern period during the 1600's, a major division occurred in the European history that was called, The Protestant Reformation. This was the 16th-century division within Western Christianity initiated by Martin Luther, John Calvin and other Protestants. This European movement aimed initially at reforming beliefs and practices in the Roman Catholic Church. Ultimately, this stopped all constructions on Cathedrals in Europe, putting Stone Masons out of work. Desperate for revenue, the Masons devised a plan to allow wealthy male individuals into their fraternity. These wealthy men were called, "Speculative Masons."

A hundred years later on July 24, 1717 (the eve a highly satanic holiday), the Masons had a meeting at the Apple Tree Tavern in London, England. In this tavern, all the Lodges got together and decided to create a Grand Lodge of England. This became known as, "The Mother Lodge" of all other Masonic Lodges, except for some German and French Lodges, all lodges in the world extend from this MotherLodge in England.

Birth of Illuminati Ordnen

On May 1st, 1776, Adam Weishaupt in Bavaria, Germany was not the founder of the Order of the Illuminati but like Hitler, he was a Rothschild puppet who was placed as the "Face" who founded the Illuminati (Always remember, if you can see them, they are not the ones pulling the strings).

Originally, the Illuminati were called, "The Order of the Perfectibilists." Weishaupt is said to have created the Illuminati fraternity to infiltrate Masonry. Masons were always in search for "Light," so the light of the Illuminati was a perfect fit for Masonry. The light, as defined in Albert Pike's published book, Morals and Dogma, states, "The Mason is familiar with the doctrine that the Supreme Being is a center of light (page 252). On page 321 this center of light is defined as, "Lucifer, the defined as, "Lucifer, the Light-bearer! Lucifer, the son of morning! Is it he who bears the light...Doubt it not." On page 324, Pike repeats the thought saying, "...a Devil, the fallen Lucifer or light bearer..." so Pike is identifying Lucifer as being the devil.

Masonry now had this Illuminist degree in its presence. Weishaupt's founded Illuminati from the principles of his early training as a Jesuit, which had been disbanded.

In 1774 "An Act of God" placed the Bavarian government in possession of evidence, which proved the existence of the continuing Luciferian conspiracy. Adam Weishaupt, a Jesuit trained professor of Canon Law, defected from Christianity, and embraced the Luciferian ideology. He was an appointed Professor of Natural and Canon Law at the University of Ingolstadt in 1775.

In 1770, the "Money lenders" (who had recently organized the House of Rothschild), retrained Weishaupt to revise and modernize the age-old "Protocols" designed to give the synagogue of Satan, ultimate world domination so they could impose Luciferian ideology upon what remains of the Human Race. Weishaupt completed his task May 1st, 1776 and the Illuminati were born.

The plan required the destruction of ALL existing governments and religions (a New World Order). This objective was to be reached by dividing the masses, which he termed Goyim (meaning human cattle) into opposing camps. By the end of the 1700's, it was hard to decipher where Masonry ended and Illuminism began.

If you still question the existence of the Illuminati, I offer you a chance to become familiar with their secret laws. These laws known as the "48 Laws of Power," and it comes straight from their Illuminati Handbook.

Law 1 - Never Outshine the Master

Always make those above you feel comfortably superior. In your desire to please or impress them, do not go too far in displaying your talents or you might accomplish the opposite – inspire fear and insecurity. Make your masters appear more brilliant than they are and you will attain the heights of power.

Law 2 - Never put too Much Trust in Friends, Learn how to use Enemies

Be wary of friends-they will betray you more quickly, for they are easily aroused to envy. They also become spoiled and tyrannical. But hire a former enemy and he will be more loyal than a friend, because he has more to prove. In fact, you have more to fear from friends than from enemies. If you have no enemies, find a way to make them.

Law 3 - Conceal your Intentions

Keep people off-balance and in the dark by never revealing the purpose behind your actions. If they have no clue what you are up to, they cannot prepare a defense. Guide them far enough down the wrong path, envelope them in enough smoke, and by the time they realize your intentions, it will be too late.

Law 4 - Always Say Less than Necessary

When you are trying to impress people with words, the more you say, the more common you appear, and the less in control. Even if you are saying something banal, it will seem original if you make it vague, open-ended, and sphinx like. Powerful people impress and intimidate by saying less. The more you say, the more likely you are to say something foolish.

Law 5 - So Much Depends on Reputation – Guard it with your Life

Reputation is the cornerstone of power. Through reputation alone you can intimidate and win; once you slip, however, you are vulnerable, and will be attacked on all sides. Make your reputation unassailable. Always be alert to potential attacks and thwart them before they happen. Meanwhile, learn to destroy your enemies by opening holes in their own reputations. Then stand aside and let public opinion hang them.

Law 6 - Court Attention at all Cost

Everything is judged by its appearance; what is unseen counts for nothing. Never let yourself get lost in the crowd, then, or buried in oblivion. Stand out. Be conspicuous, at all cost. Make yourself a magnet of attention by appearing larger, more colorful, more mysterious, than the bland and timid masses.

Law 7 - Get others to do the Work for you, but Always Take the Credit

Use the wisdom, knowledge, and legwork of other people to further your own cause. Not only will such assistance save you valuable time and energy, it will give you a godlike aura of efficiency and speed. In the end your helpers will be forgotten and you will be remembered. Never do yourself what others can do for you.

Law 8 - Make other People come to you – use Bait if Necessary

When you force the other person to act, you are the one in control. It is always better to make your opponent come to you, abandoning his own plans in the process. Lure him with fabulous gains – then attack. You hold the cards.

Law 9 - Win through your Actions, Never through Argument

Any momentary triumph you think gained through argument is really a Pyrrhic victory: The resentment and ill will you stir up is stronger and lasts longer than any momentary change of opinion. It is much more powerful to get others to agree with you through your actions, without saying a word. Demonstrate, do not explicate.

Law 10 - Infection: Avoid the Unhappy and Unlucky

You can die from someone else's misery – emotional states are as infectious as disease. You may feel you are helping the drowning man but you are only precipitating your own disaster. The unfortunate sometimes draw misfortune on themselves; they will also draw it on you. Associate with the happy and fortunate instead.

Law 11 - Learn to Keep People Dependent on You

To maintain your independence you must always be needed and wanted. The more you are relied on, the more freedom you have. Make people depend on you for their happiness and prosperity and you have nothing to fear. Never teach them enough so that they can do without you.

Law 12 - Use Selective Honesty and Generosity to Disarm your Victim

One sincere and honest move will cover over dozens of dishonest ones. Openhearted gestures of honesty and generosity bring down the guard of even the most suspicious people. Once your selective honesty opens a hole in their armor, you can deceive and manipulate them at will. A timely gift – a Trojan horse – will serve the same purpose.

Law 13 - When Asking for Help, Appeal to People's Self-Interest, Never to their Mercy or Gratitude

If you need to turn to an ally for help, do not bother to remind him of your past assistance and good deeds. He will find a way to ignore you. Instead, uncover something in your request, or in your alliance with him, that will benefit him, and emphasize it out of all proportion. He will respond enthusiastically when he sees something to be gained for himself.

Law 14 - Pose as a Friend, Work as a Spy

Knowing about your rival is critical. Use spies to gather valuable information that will keep you a step ahead. Better still: Play the spy yourself. In polite social encounters, learn to probe. Ask indirect questions to get people to reveal their weaknesses and intentions. There is no occasion that is not an opportunity for artful spying.

Law 15 - Crush your Enemy Totally

All great leaders since Moses have known that a feared enemy must be crushed completely. (Sometimes they have learned this the hard way.) If one ember is left alight, no matter how dimly it smolders, a fire will eventually break out. More is lost through stopping halfway than through total annihilation: The enemy will recover, and will seek revenge. Crush him, not only in body but in spirit.

Law 16 - Use Absence to Increase Respect and Honor

Too much circulation makes the price go down: The more you are seen and heard from, the more common you appear. If you are already established in a group, temporary withdrawal from it will make you more talked about, even more admired. You must learn when to leave. Create value through scarcity.

Law 17 - Keep Others in Suspended Terror: Cultivate an Air of Unpredictability

Humans are creatures of habit with an insatiable need to see familiarity in other people's actions. Your predictability gives them a sense of control. Turn the tables: Be deliberately unpredictable. Behavior that seems to have no consistency or purpose will keep them off-balance, and they will wear themselves out trying to explain your moves. Taken to an extreme, this strategy can intimidate and terrorize.

Law 18 - Do Not Build Fortresses to Protect Yourself – Isolation is Dangerous

The world is dangerous and enemies are everywhere – everyone has to protect themselves. A fortress seems the safest. But isolation exposes you to more dangers than it protects you from – it cuts you off from valuable information, it makes you conspicuous and an easy target. Better to circulate among people find allies, mingle. You are shielded from your enemies by the crowd.

Law 19 - Know Who You're Dealing with – Do Not Offend the Wrong Person

There are many different kinds of people in the world, and you can never assume that everyone will react to your strategies in the same way. Deceive or outmaneuver some people and they will spend the rest of their lives seeking revenge. They are wolves in lambs' clothing. Choose your victims and opponents carefully, then – never offend or deceive the wrong person.

Law 20 - Do Not Commit to Anyone

It is the fool who always rushes to take sides. Do not commit to any side or cause but yourself. By maintaining your independence, you become the master of others – playing people against one another, making them pursue you.

Law 21 - Play a Sucker to Catch a Sucker – Seem Dumber than your Mark

No one likes feeling stupider than the next persons. The trick, is to make your victims feel smart – and not just smart, but smarter than you are. Once convinced of this, they will never suspect that you may have ulterior motives.

Law 22 - Use the Surrender Tactic: Transform Weakness into Power

When you are weaker, never fight for honor's sake; choose surrender instead. Surrender gives you time to recover, time to torment and irritate your conqueror, time to wait for his power to wane. Do not give him the satisfaction of fighting and defeating you – surrender first. By turning the other cheek you infuriate and unsettle him. Make surrender a tool of power.

Law 23 - Concentrate Your Forces

Conserve your forces and energies by keeping them concentrated at their strongest point. You gain more by finding a rich mine and mining it deeper, than by flitting from one shallow mine to another – intensity defeats extensity every time. When looking for sources of power to elevate you, find the one key patron, the fat cow who will give you milk for a long time to come.

Law 24 - Play the Perfect Courtier

The perfect courtier thrives in a world where everything revolves around power and political dexterity. He has mastered the art of indirection; he flatters, yields to superiors, and asserts power over others in the most oblique and graceful manner. Learn and apply the laws of courtiership and there will be no limit to how far you can rise in the court.

Law 25 - Re-Create Yourself

Do not accept the roles that society foists on you. Re-create yourself by forging a new identity, one that commands attention and never bores the audience. Be the master of your own image rather than letting others define it for you. Incorporate dramatic devices into your public gestures and actions – your power will be enhanced and your character will seem larger than life.

Law 26 - Keep Your Hands Clean

You must seem a paragon of civility and efficiency: Your hands are never soiled by mistakes and nasty deeds. Maintain such a spotless appearance by using others as scapegoats and cat's-paws to disguise your involvement.

Law 27 - Play on People's Need to Believe to Create a Cult like Following

People have an overwhelming desire to believe in something. Become the focal point of such desire by offering them a cause, a new faith to follow. Keep your words vague but full of promise; emphasize enthusiasm over rationality and clear thinking. Give your new disciples rituals to perform, ask them to make sacrifices on your behalf. In the absence of organized religion and grand causes, your new belief system will bring you untold power.

Law 28 - Enter Action with Boldness

If you are unsure of a course of action, do not attempt it. Your doubts and hesitations will infect your execution. Timidity is dangerous: Better to enter with boldness. Any mistakes you commit through audacity are easily corrected with more audacity. Everyone admires the bold; no one honors the timid.

Law 29 - Plan All the Way to the End

The ending is everything. Plan all the way to it, taking into account all the possible consequences, obstacles, and twists of fortune that might reverse your hard work and give the glory to others. By planning to the end you will not be overwhelmed by circumstances and you will know when to stop. Gently guide fortune and help determine the future by thinking far ahead.

Law 30 - Make your Accomplishments Seem Effortless

Your actions must seem natural and executed with ease. All the toil and practice that go into them, and also all the clever tricks, must be concealed. When you act, act effortlessly, as if you could do much more. Avoid the temptation of revealing how hard you work – it only raises questions. Teach no one your tricks or they will be used against you.

Law 31 - Control the Options: Get Others to Play with the Cards you Deal

The best deceptions are the ones that seem to give the other person a choice: Your victims feel they are in control, but are actually your puppets. Give people options that come out in your favor whichever one they choose. Force them to make choices between the lesser of two evils, both of which serve your purpose. Put them on the horns of a dilemma: They are gored wherever they turn.

Law 32 - Play to People's Fantasies

The truth is often avoided because it is ugly and unpleasant. Never appeal to truth and reality unless you are prepared for the anger that comes for disenchantment. Life is so harsh and distressing that people who can manufacture romance or conjure up fantasy are like oases in the desert: Everyone flocks to them. There is great power in tapping into the fantasies of the masses.

Law 33 - Discover Each Man's Thumbscrew

Everyone has a weakness, a gap in the castle wall. That weakness is usually an insecurity, an uncontrollable emotion or need; it can also be a small secret pleasure. Either way, once found, it is a thumbscrew you can turn to your advantage.

Law 34 - Be Royal in your Own Fashion: Act like a King to be treated like one

The way you carry yourself will often determine how you are treated; In the long run, appearing vulgar or common will make people disrespect you. For a king respects himself and inspires the same sentiment in others. By acting regally and confident of your powers, you make yourself seem destined to wear a crown.

Law 35 - Master the Art of Timing

Never seem to be in a hurry – hurrying betrays a lack of control over yourself, and over time. Always seem patient, as if you know that everything will come to you eventually. Become a detective of the right moment; sniff out the spirit of the times, the trends that will carry you to power. Learn to stand back when the time is not yet ripe, and to strike fiercely when it has reached fruition.

Law 36 - Disdain Things you cannot have: Ignoring them is the best Revenge

By acknowledging a petty problem you give it existence and credibility. The more attention you pay an enemy, the stronger you make him; and a small mistake is often made worse and more visible when you try to fix it. It is sometimes best to leave things alone. If there is something you want but cannot have, show contempt for it. The less interest you reveal, the more superior you seem.

Law 37 - Create Compelling Spectacles

Striking imagery and grand symbolic gestures create the aura of power – everyone responds to them. Stage spectacles for those around you, then full of arresting visuals and radiant symbols that heighten your presence. Dazzled by appearances, no one will notice what you are really doing.

Law 38 - Think as you like but Behave like others

If you make a show of going against the times, flaunting your unconventional ideas and unorthodox ways, people will think that you only want attention and that you look down upon them. They will find a way to punish you for making them feel inferior. It is far safer to blend in and nurture the common touch. Share your originality only with tolerant friends and those who are sure to appreciate your uniqueness.

Law 39 - Stir up Waters to Catch Fish

Anger and emotion are strategically counterproductive. You must always stay calm and objective. But if you can make your enemies angry while staying calm yourself, you gain a decided advantage. Put your enemies off-balance: Find the chink in their vanity through which you can rattle them and you hold the strings.

Law 40 - Despise the Free Lunch

What is offered for free is dangerous – it usually involves either a trick or a hidden obligation. What has worth is worth paying for. By paying your own way you stay clear of gratitude, guilt, and deceit. It is also often wise to pay the full price – there is no cutting corners with excellence. Be lavish with your money and keep it circulating, for generosity is a sign and a magnet for power.

Law 41 - Avoid Stepping into a Great Man's Shoes

What happens first always appears better and more original than what comes after. If you succeed a great man or have a famous parent, you will have to accomplish double their achievements to outshine them. Do not get lost in their shadow, or stuck in a past not of your own making: Establish your own name and identity by changing course. Slay the overbearing father, disparage his legacy, and gain power by shining in your own way.

Law 42 - Strike the Shepherd and the Sheep will Scatter

Trouble can often be traced to a single strong individual – the stirrer, the arrogant underling, the poisoned of goodwill. If you allow such people room to operate, others will succumb to their influence. Do not wait for the troubles they cause to multiply, do not try to negotiate with them – they are irredeemable. Neutralize their influence by isolating or banishing them. Strike at the source of the trouble and the sheep will scatter.

Law 43 - Work on the Hearts and Minds of Others

Coercion creates a reaction that will eventually work against you. You must seduce others into wanting to move in your direction. A person you have seduced becomes your loyal pawn. And the way to seduce others is to operate on their individual psychologies and weaknesses. Soften up the resistant by working on their emotions, playing on what they hold dear and what they fear. Ignore the hearts and minds of others and they will grow to hate you.

Law 44 - Disarm and Infuriate with the Mirror Effect

The mirror reflects reality, but it is also the perfect tool for deception: When you mirror your enemies, doing exactly as they do, they cannot figure out your strategy. The Mirror Effect mocks and humiliates them, making them overreact. By holding up a mirror to their psyches, you seduce them with the illusion that you share their values; by holding up a mirror to their actions, you teach them a lesson. Few can resist the power of Mirror Effect.

Law 45 - Preach the Need for Change, but Never Reform too much at Once

Everyone understands the need for change in the abstract, but on the day-to-day level people are creatures of habit. Too much innovation is traumatic, and will lead to revolt. If you are new to a position of power, or an outsider trying to build a power base, make a show of respecting the old way of doing things. If change is necessary, make it feel like a gentle improvement on the past.

Law 46 - Never appear too Perfect

Appearing better than others is always dangerous, but most dangerous of all is to appear to have no faults or weaknesses. Envy creates silent enemies. It is smart to occasionally display defects, and admit to harmless vices, in order to deflect envy and appear more human and approachable. Only gods and the dead can seem perfect with impunity.

Law 47 - Do not go Past the Mark you Aimed for; In Victory, Learn when to Stop

The moment of victory is often the moment of greatest peril. In the heat of victory, arrogance and overconfidence can push you past the goal you had aimed for, and by going too far, you make more enemies than you defeat. Do not allow success to go to your head. There is no substitute for strategy and careful planning. Set a goal, and when you reach it, stop.

Law 48 - Assume Formlessness

By taking a shape, by having a visible plan, you open yourself to attack. Instead of taking a form for your enemy to grasp, keep yourself adaptable and on the move. Accept the fact that nothing is certain and no law is fixed. The best way to protect yourself is to be as fluid and formless as water; never bet on stability or lasting order. Everything changes.

These 48 laws should help you better understand men of secret orders who monopolize corporations, sit as "Heads of States," and control all media, film and advertisement. We live in their world, based solely upon an illusion that strategically moves mankind into the depths of hell. By keeping mankind oppressed, and "Servants" to a currency in which we will never own. They are the masters of deceit, and Satan sits at the head of all their tables.

The Mormon Church

Like the secret laws of Illuminati, The Mormon Church is too, shrouded with secret laws and an interesting secret past of foundation that will be revealed. By the 19th century, Captain William Morgan the "Mason," became the "Anti-Mason" and did something that was unprecedented in the history of Masonry. He published a book with all the secrets of Masonry. He disappeared, and years later a Mason on his deathbed admitted to killing Captain Morgan and dumping his body in a lake with the help of another Masonic brother. Captain Morgan's plaque reads:

"The bane of our civil institutions is to be found in MASONRY, already powerful and daily becoming more so. I owe to my Country an EXPOSURE of its DANGER." –Capt. Wm Morgan.

After Captain Morgan published his anti-Mason book, Lodges from all over America began to close year after year. It was the worse publicity in the history of Masonry.

Albert Pike

If it wasn't for slavery rising up in the South and in the North (with the abolitionist movement), Masonry could have been driven off the shores of the western world. At that time, slavery was more important and then the civil war began. After the war, Masonry came back with full vengeance, due to Albert Pike.

Pike made Masonry popular again in the 1800's. He was a known racist, and founder of the Klu Klux Klan. By the 20th century Masonry was back in full force. This was the most popular era for Masons.

Before Captain Morgan was murdered for leaking Masonic secrets, he left behind several Masonic artifacts and documentation that his wife never destroyed. Morgan was forty-years-old when he married sixteen-year-old Lucinda Pendleton. Years later after she realized that Morgan had been murdered, Lucinda remarried. She married her landlord, George Washington Harris (who was a Mason and friend of her late husband, Captain William Morgan) on November 30th 1830. George Harris was strong in the Mormon religion. He was an active, prominent Mormon and a high councilor. It seemed to be common practice for the

Captain William Morgan

Mormon Church founder, Joseph Smith, to marry women who were living in the same house with him. Since Joseph had been staying with George and Lucinda Harris in their home for two months, he also married Harris' wife, Lucinda (now thirty-six years old). Lucinda gave Smith Her late husbands Masonic documents which helped developed the Mormon Temple.

Despite the marriage to Joseph, Lucinda chose to live with George Harris while married also to Smith. Eventually, Harris was sent away on a mission for a year and it can be assumed the Smith-Lucinda relationship had a better chance to blossom while Harris was away on his mission.

Lucinda Pendleton - Harris - Smith

George Harris apparently accepted the "Doctrinal calling" for his wife to be the simultaneous wife of Joseph Smith. In a temple sealing (after Smith's death), Smith was sealed for "time and eternity" to Lucinda (while George Harris sat in as Smith's proxy). However, she was sealed to Harris for only "time." Lucinda eventually left Harris. It is known that she lived the rest of her life as a Catholic sister, but no date of death is known.

History of the Mormon Church

From the dark secrets of Masonry, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (LDS, the Mormon Church) developed similar and new secrets for the Mormon Temple. Every boy over twelve years of age holds Priesthood. From thirteen to fourteen years of age these boys become Teachers. Young men from twelve to eighteen year of age, and older men who are new converts, are ordained to offices in the Aaronic Priesthood. If you're considered worthy when you turn eighteen, you become an Elder. These young men have no idea of the secret pagan rituals that go on inside the Mormon Temple at this age. The church and Temple are separate. Anyone can walk into a church, but like a Masonic lodge or a lodge of any secret society including Satanism groups; you must have an initiative card to gain entry into the Mormon Temple. To learn the secrets of the Temple, an Elder would need to rise in ranks and become an apprentice of what's called, "The Twelve Apostles." If admirable, the Elder becomes an "Elder Quorum High Priest."

Joseph Smith

Joseph Smith came from a dark peculiar family. He grew up in upstate New York at the beginning of the 19th Century, in a rural area. His family was involved in sorcery and witchcraft. Joseph's father, Joseph Sr., was a full-blown occultist. He was involved in an occult group called the "Wood Scrape." This group would perform Water Witching, and Dousing. They used to dig for buried treasures in graveyards. Smith Jr. was also a grave robber. His father believed he was clairvoyant and could find gold with his "Looking Glass" abilities (Looking Glass, or Glass Looker was another name for, Money Digging). Smith was a common thief like his father.

Joseph's mother (Lucy Mack Smith) said in her autobiography that the family cast magic circles and practiced the "Faculty of Abrac" (this is were the term, Abracadbra originated from). As a teenager Joseph prayed for guidance (supposedly) from King James 1:5: If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and up unbraideth not; and it should be given him."

Joseph went to the woods and prayed (this is the official story). He was overwhelmed with great darkness to such an extent that he thought he was going to lose his life. Then all of a sudden this pillar of light shined out upon him, and he saw two Personages appearing in the light. One said, "This is my son, hear him." Joseph asked what religion to join and he was told none of them, because they are all wrong, and an abomination.

Before I continue this story of how the so-called angel Moroni was manifested, I need to disclose the true origins of Moroni in three notes.

NOTE 1: God added the letters "E.L." at the end of all the names of His Angels. A disobedient Angel, would have the E.L. dropped from the end of his name as illustrated in Book-1 (i.e., Bael to Baal, or Belzebel to Belzebub), so if Joseph really saw an angel named Moroni, this was not an Angel of God, it would have been a fallen angel, or just simply, a made-up name (which was the case). Luciferian teaches to conceal true meanings in names of people (spirits), things or events. Smith had Luciferian knowledge, and used the word "Moronic" and dropped the letter "C" creating the counterfeit Moroni.

NOTE 2: Beyond 33 degrees, a Luciferian is taught that Satan/Lucifer is the "Lightbearer (Light-bearer)," "Light-Bringer," "Keeper of Light," and/or "Angel of Light" (Smith had Luciferian knowledge before even receiving his first Masonic degree). Ironically, when Satan was an Archangel known as Bael, The Metatron recorded that at one point, God did make him king of the First Heavens, which is made up of a pure white light. Smith, having Luciferian knowledge describes his creation, "Moroni," as an "Angel of Light," meaning Lucifer. He learned the secrets of creating a deity, such as the deity of Jesus (Meaning Hail Zeus), or the deity of Jehovah (a secret 3-in-1 name for Satan). As you learned in Book-1, the Jehovah name was created far before America was discovered (Jehovah is also the name used by Luciferian Masonic Members representing Satan). The deity of Allah (the crescent moon god) who is now being celebrated as the Creator God in Mecca.

NOTE 3: The number "8" is important to a Luciferian and Satanist because it represents Saturn (AKA Satan, or 'Home of Satan'). There is a black ball called, "Satan's Ball" "The Magical Ball," but most know it as simply, "The '8' Ball" Smith had Gnostic and ancient knowledge of the powers of numerology, so he reported that this so-called Maroni, first appeared to him on the evening of September 21st, 1823 which translates to Satan, Home of Satan, or Satan's Home (Saturn):

$$9/21/1823 = 9+2+1+1+8+2+3 = 26 = 2+6 = 8 = \text{Saturn} = \text{Satan}$$

Smith would have had plan the first sighting on this date, days or even a month(s) before, in honor of "Lucifer The Lightbearer." Saturn Stones were purposely incorporated on the Salt Lake Temple as seen below the canted pentagram stars.

Here's how Smith created his deity or false religion:

Smith Later visions an angel in his bedroom. This angel identified himself as, "Moroni." Moroni told Joseph that there were ancient scripts buried on golden plates, and that this was a story of an ancient American civilization that existed thousands of years ago. Moroni tells Joseph if he proves himself worthy, that he would find these plates.

For three separate years on the Autumn Equinox (September 21st), Moroni would appear to Joseph. But before I can continue this story, we have to turn back to Satanism to understand why Smith disclosed September 21st, as the annual meeting date of the so-called, "Moroni." There are a number of Satanic holidays that have been in existence for thousands of years and are still in existence today. If you look at the chart above (counter clockwise), you will find the Fall (Autumn) Equinox. It's at this point the "Darkness" begins to increase. In Satanic traditions, this time is known as, "The Beginning," and rituals take place for putting things into action. The sun is at zero degrees into Libra, during September 21st-23rd, and that's why Smith (a known Satanist) picked September 21st as his Moroni sightings.

By the third visit, Moroni showed Smith where the plates were. Joseph dug up the plates and by the "Gift of god" he translated them, from Reformed Egyptian to English (Reformed Egyptian does not exist), and Smith was not aware that not one ancient Egyptian believed in the true God, our CREATOR. Joseph's story is completely untrue on so many levels, but at the end of this Reformed Egyptian story, there is an apocalyptic battle at Hill Cumorah in upstate New York around 400 A.D. Moroni buried the golden plates that told the story until Joseph Smith came along. In 1830 Joseph founded the Mormon Church. It was originally called The Church of Christ, and later it was changed to, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saint (LDS).

Unlike the great humble profits of the bible, Abraham, Moses, and Enoch, Joseph Smith became a boaster, bragging about his church. He claimed to be a descendant of Jesus Christ. He had interpreted from the bible and preached that Jesus was a polygamist had several wives and children and that his bloodline came from Jesus. Smith didn't have knowledge that the name Jesus was made up in 312 AD meaning "Hail Zeus." Smith taught that no Mormon or man would enter the celestial Kingdom of "god" without the consent of Joseph Smith. So at this point Smith is turning himself into a god.

After Lucinda gave Masonic material to Joseph Smith, he studied it, and in 1842 Smith received his first degree in Masonry (two years before his death). On March 16th, 1842 (one day later) Smith becomes a Master Mason. He's is supposed to be an angelic profit of God, yet he studied the darkness of Masonry and Luciferian, written by the late Captain Morgan, and not only joined, but became a Master Mason within two days of joining.

The sin "Adultery," is taught to us in the Bible in several locations including: Exodus 20:14, Matthew 5:27-28, 1Corinthians 6:9-10, John 8:3-11, Deuteronomy 22:22-24, James 4:4, Isaiah 59:2, Matthew 12:39 and 16:4 and well as Mark 8:38 (wicked and adulterous generation). In the Hebrew bible adultery is found in Hebrew 13:4 (vol. 12, page 146). We see adultery in the Theological Dictionary Revelations 2:2 (vol. 4, pages 734-735), and we see it in Apostolic Fathers 2 Clement 4:3 and Commands 4:9. The King James Bible translates the Hebrew word for "Adultery" (which is na'aph) as "Break wedlock" Ezekiel 16:38 and Matthew 19:9. We even learn about adultery in one of the smallest chapters of the bible, Malachi 2:14, and with all of these scriptures teaching us the great sin of adultery, Joseph Smith continued to turn his back on the true word of God and continued to bed other men's wives. He promoted adultery in his preaching because according to him, the New and Everlasting Covenant of Marriage, abrogated all old weddings. Meaning, all old marriages and unions under God's blessings were now null and void. So whenever Smith saw an attractive married woman he would say, "God has given me a 'Revelation,' and your wife is to become my wife."

Smith designed and built temples that mirrored Masonic Temples from the outside and proceeded with similar pagan rituals on the inside. All but roughly seven Mormon Temples face eastward with a westward entrance, and were designed this way based on Satanic, Gnostic, Kabbalah and Masonic ideology. The Mormon Temples carry an inscription that defines an Eastward design ("Holiness to the Lord" lit first by morning light). First light represents the sun rising in the East. Most Mormons don't understand the significance of the rising sun. They don't understand that any religious temple facing east, with a westward entrance, is a representation of that faith turning their back on God, and are hailing in sun worship (Satin worship) as Ancient Babylonian and Egyptians did.

Like the Mystery Religion of Babylon, Egypt, Greece, Persia, Alexandria, Rome and England, the Mormon Church was now and official Mystery Religion. Mormon Temples that don't face the East, face in directions of forced zonings. The original Mormon Temple of Nauvoo faced eastward (with a western entrance), but after being destroyed in a fire in 1848 it was rebuilt facing westward against Smith's design so that it would face water (a river). Taiwan's culture knows not to face a temple due east because it's considered bad luck, so unlike most Mormon Temples, in Taiwan Temple face west with a eastern entrance. In Manhattan, New York, the Mormon Temple faces southwest because that was the way this building was facing before the Mormon Church bought it in 2002. In this building the Temple was only located on part of the first floor and all of the fourth, fifth, and sixth floors when first obtained by LDS.

Joseph Smith died as an occultist. At the time of his death, he had a Jupiter Talisman in his pocket, as seen to the right. A Jupiter Talisman is used for two things, only. According to Francis Barrett's massive textbook, "The Magus," it states that this particular Talisman is the number one Talisman to give to someone who desires success with women (sexually). The second sorcery behind this Talisman is that it will give its holder/owner, worldly power and earthly possessions. This Talisman has no significance with faith or spirituality of goodness. Smith used it to simply attract women, and to gain wealth and power.

Smith built his first Temple in Kirtland, Ohio, but was run out of town. He then moved to Nauvoo, Illinois where he and his occult started their own city. Nauvoo earned the reputation by outsiders of being the "Cesspool of Inequity." Smith ruled this city like a tiny kingdom (Nauvoo was larger than Chicago in the 1840's). Six weeks after studying Masonry and becoming a Master Mason in Nauvoo, Smith received a revelation from god (supposedly) for the "Temple Endowment."

The Temple Endowments are the secret rituals of the Mormon Temple which are seventy-percent similar to freemasonry Pagan rituals. Smith began teaching small groups of his followers, the procedures of Temple Endowment.

Later, Smith created a new Covenant of Marriage, which taught, "If you don't accept plural marriage; you're damned in the Mormon church. Most Mormons are unaware of this, but Joseph Smith was crowned King of USA, and he ran for President of the United States of America in the 1844 elections. During his campaign for Presidency, some shunned Mormons went to the local paper and disclosed that Joseph Smith was a polygamist and had more than one wife (it was the worse kept secret in Nauvoo). The paper printed the story and this defamed Smith. He became angry and ordered a group of Mormons to destroy the printing press, which they did. When the Governor heard about the vandalism, he was forced to arrest Smith and place him in the Carthage Jail, Carthage, Illinois.

While in jail, Smith was slipped a loaded pistol. Two days later an angry mob stormed the jail and Smith was shot. Smith shot two men himself killing one, but then his gun jammed so he tried to jump out of the window on the second story. Gunshots came from within the jail and outside the jail, killing Smith as he fell to his death. Mormons will teach that Joseph Smith fell and hit the Earth. He laid on his back, saying, "My Lord, My God" then died. This account is untrue. Several witness that were not Freemason's gave confused statements that Smith said, “Oh lord my god is there no help for the widows son!” The Masonic brothers who were shooting him knew what this meant. This was The Grand Mason Hailing of Distress, given by Masonic members when they are in dying need of help.

After Smith’s death, Brigham Young forced his way in as a Senior Apostle, and staged a bloodless coup and became the new Prophet. Young became a pedophile just like Joseph Smith. He married little girls and had over 50 wives when he died. He became so obese; it took six men to carry him to his bed for his union with a new wife.

The Mormon Jews & Judaism Connection

When the Mormon Church needed financing in the late 19th century, they went to Kuhn, Loeb Company, which is controlled by the Rothschild family. The control comes through a method used by the Rothschild’s to gain influence in a way that Royal Families had used for centuries, through marriage. The Rothschild children (girls and boys) had their spouses chosen on the basis of alliances that would benefit the House of Rothschild. By consolidating world power they generally married cousins.

Jacob Schiff grew up in the house that the Rothschild’s had in Frankfurt, Germany. He traveled to the United States with funds from Rothschild and took control over a small Jewish banking matter founded by two Cincinnati dry goods merchants, Abraham Kuhn and Solomon Loeb (hence Kuhn, Loeb Company). Schiff married Loeb’s daughter and in 1885, Loeb retired, and Schiff ran the Kuhn, Loeb Co. for the Rothschilds’ until 1920 when he died. This is the type of strategy of marrying cousins and siblings into other families of wealth, which created a network of industry and economical control for the House of Rothschild.

The Mormon Church War

Polygamy became a major scandal in the U.S., so the government stepped in after the Civil War. Now, the “Mormon War” was beginning. A federal law was passed against plural marriages and federal agents crossed over into Utah to enforce this new law. Miraculously, Mormon President Wilfred Woodruff suddenly had a new “Revelation” in 1890 and cancels the “New and Everlasting Covenant” of plural marriages, in exchange for an end to persecution and U.S. Army intervention. So now plural marriages was now abrogated. You were damned if you weren’t united in a plural marriage before the government stepped in, and now you were damned if you continued union in a plural marriage.

Blacks In the Mormon Church

By the early mid 20th Century, the Mormon Church moved out of the fringe and into mainstream society in the 1960’s. During this time, the Civil Rights Movement in America was on an up rise. Prior to 1978 Black people could get baptized, but they could not hold offices in priesthood, or anywhere else in the Church. Blacks were not allowed to go to the Temple, and they could not be "Sealed for all time in eternity."

Mormons have a cosmology. They believe that before the creation of the Earth there was the meeting of the gods. There was a committee meeting on what to do with Earth. Jesus gave his thoughts on what to do, then his little brother Lucifer gave his thoughts on what to do. Jesus' ideology prevailed. Lucifer became angry and convinced 1/3rd of the angels to rebel. So 1/3rd of the angels including the Archangel Michael (who would later become Adam) stood with Jesus. The last standing third of angels took no side and waited for the outcome. Jesus and his angels won the battle, and Lucifer and his angels were kicked out of Heaven and they became demons. The Angels that took no side were cursed with black skin because of their laziness. They were sent to Earth and would never receive Priesthood until everyone else had received it. The angels of Jesus were rewarded with "White and Delightful," and got to come to Earth and be born into Mormon families. Black people were seen as grotesque as described by high members of the Mormon Temples. They taught that the African race is cursed and inferior in every way. This sounds like a ridiculous story made up by a mean child, and yet, it's the story that was made up by Joseph Smith and taught in the Mormon Church for years.

Here's what Mormon leaders have taught church members about black people. Joseph Smith taught that Negroes (blacks) are the descendants of Cain. (J. S. History, vol. 4, page 501) Brigham Young was equally adamant about the status of the blacks. Young said; "Blacks are cursed with a flat nose and black skin." (Journal of Discourses, vol. 7, pages 290-291) "Shall I tell you the law of God in regard to the African Race? If the white man who belongs to the chosen seed mixes his blood with the seed of Cain, the penalty, under the law of God, is death on the spot. This will always be so." Brigham Young also said, "If the priesthood was ever given to the Blacks, on that very day and hour, if we should do so, the priesthood will be taken from this church." (Brigham Young Addresses, page 61) President Joseph Fielding Smith said: "They are an inferior race, and their intelligence is stunted." Apostle Bruce McConkie said: "The Negroes were less valiant in the preexistence, and therefore spiritually restricted."

By the 1970's when the Mormon Church began a massive growth in Brazil (a multiracial culture society). The Mormons taught that if you held one drop of black blood, you could not hold Priesthood. The Brazilian government was offended by this notion and stepped in and intervened. The Brazilian government told the Mormon Church, "If you don't get rid of this doctrine, we won't let you teach or build a Temple in Brazil."

Another inconvenience for the Mormon Church took place when the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) approached the Church and said, "Unless you change this doctrine, we will have to change your tax exempt status. In 1978 the Mormon Profit at that time was Spencer W. Kimball, and like Joseph Smith and Wilfred Woodruff, Spencer Kimball had a Revelation! His revelation was that now blacks could hold Priesthood. Blacks now have full access to LDS offices and Temples. Being black and joining the Mormon Church is like a Jewish man joining the Nazi Party, but today the Mormon Church has over 800,000 black members. These members are not prominent in America, because most Black Americans know the truth behind LDS' deception. Most of black Mormons are located in Brazil, Africa, and the Caribbean's, where these cultures are oblivious to the fact that the original doctrine ever existed. This is how they are being duped into joining this false religion.

According to Mormon teachings here are five sins that a Mormon can commit which the blood of Jesus will never atone:

- Murder
- Adultery
- Homosexuality
- Apostasy from the true Church
- Marring a Black person

If a Mormon commits just one of these Mormon sins, the only way to get into a kingdom is by having a firing squad come together and shoot the guilty Mormon to death. The deceased Mormon's blood will drop to the earth, and the smoke of this blood will rise in smoking incense. These firing squads only exist where Mormonism is dominant, including Utah, Idaho, and Oklahoma.

So in short, marry a black guy and get shot to death by a firing squad for the safety of your salvation. Masons don't care to commingle with blacks, Mormons don't care to mingle with blacks and what both groups don't realize is that 70 percent of their rituals were invented by two very black people. Nimrod and Semiramis were Ethiopian. This is why the original Madonna and Child were BLACK. The Roman Catholic Church still conceals the original Madonna and Child artwork and statues deep below, in the Vatican vault. In the late 13th century and early 14th century, Duccio di Buoninsegna was hired by the Roman Catholic Church to create a new and improved "White" Madonna and Child, in both paintings and statues.

Apostle Bruce R. McConkie in Mormon Doctrine (pages 234-236) says that anyone who does not make it to the Celestial Kingdom is "Eternally Damned." Only one and ten Mormons go to the temple, and of these Mormons only half return, and of the half that returns, only half have their Temple Recommend deemed worthy. This means the Mormon Church has a 95 percent failure rate so most members are damned (according to their false doctrines).

There are good people who belong to this religion. What The Church of Christ of Latter-Day Saints illustrates, is how a selfish evil thief and con man, can make up a story with charisma, preaching with conviction, while deceiving millions of innocent people to spread the gospel of darkness. A false prophet, a false religion, it's a strategy that's been present here on Earth for over 10,000 years.

Masonic Temple Oaths

Freemasons will define themselves to the public as, "A beautiful system of morality, veiled in allegory and illustrated by symbols." The definition hidden from the public and most freemasons is far darker than the one provided to the public, and to beginning Masons. The real definition for Freemasonry is as follows:

"The worlds oldest fraternal organization. A system of three ritual initiations or degrees based on the medieval Stone Mason's Guild, guarded by blood oaths and founded on the principle of the fatherhood of god and the brotherhood of man. Masonry symbolism is a blend of old testament symbols rooted in the building of King Solomon's Temple, and ancient Mystery Religion of Babylon."

Most Masons are only aware of classical Blue Lodge Masonry. Blue Lodge Masonry is where a beginning brother of masonry would study and complete his first three degrees. The first three foundational degrees in Blue Lodge Masonry include:

- Entered Apprentice
- Fellowcraft
- Master Mason

All the functioning Grand Lodges in the United States come from the Grand Lodge of England, originally. After the American Revolution, it was determined that each state would have it's own autonomous Grand Lodge in its own jurisdiction, like the Grand Lodge of Texas.

Once a Mason gets passed these first three degrees, the structure becomes fundamentally complex. There is a two-stair step path initiation process where Masons can travel as seen below on the stairs to the bottom left. One side of the stair has 29 steps representing the 29 degrees of Scottish Rite and on the other side there is nine steps representing the York Rite. These are the two major paths that a Mason can travel. If the apprentice is lucky enough to make it to the top of the stair casings, he has completed 33 degrees called the Grand Sovereign Inspector General Degree. There are additional degrees under the arch called Auxiliary and Adoptive Bodies. The best known of these is the Shrine, and then there are Youth Orders that include:

- DeMolay
- Tall Cedars of Lebanon
- The International Order of the Rainbow for Girls (IORG)
- Daughters of The Nile
- The International Order of Job's Daughter

These groups are regarded as, Classical American Masonry. They are not supposed to solicit, but as you can see from my childhood, that recruiting is present because this organization has been losing members, and its popularity over the pass years. It's very costly to join this dark fraternity, and once a member; the boredom sets in, to the ritual functions of old men. With cable television and a new era of entertainment and sport events, men today are spending more time playing video games and watching sports, than being interested in joining a secrets society. Today, the earthly distractions have become great, which can causes Masonic members to secretly recruit in efforts to keep local lodges functioning.

Once a man has applied, and a committee approves his petition, the committee will meet with him for an interview. The requirement is that the applicant must be a man (only), over 18 years of age. He can't be a "mad man," or an old man in his dotage. Additionally, he must believe in some form of god, and have financial stability. Finally, the applicant must be a "Free born man" (this was used to keep black men out of the Lodge). Before the late 80's all black members had a separate but equal branch of Masonry called, Prince Hall Masonry. It's suggested that President Obama is a 32nd degree Prince Hall Freemason, loyal to the Craft 32nd degree Prince Hall Mason, and good standing member of Royal Arch Masons, and Knights Templar. Masonic hand shakes, proves his association as a Masonic member as seen here.

A masonic ring is a visual sign, proving his association as a member of the masonic order. The final voting for apprenticeship is determined by a little black ball. The term "Black Balled" (defined as to reject someone) is originally a Masonic term. The committee completes a report and then tells the Lodge what they think about the candidate. At this point, the whole Lodge votes using a ballot box with white squares and black balls. If one black ball ends up in the ballot box, the candidate is rejected, membership. He can try to join other Lodges but would have to endure the same committee interviews.

Masonry requires all members to swear oaths. If accepted, the candidate will go through an, "Entered Apprentice Oath." The Worshipful Master will stand in front of the candidate. The Worshipful Master will be the only one wearing a top hat as seen in this picture.

A Senior Deacon will stand behind the candidate and instruct him along. The candidate will kneel at an altar blindfolded. One foot is barefooted and one foot has a sandal on it. He's neither naked nor clothed, barefoot nor shod, he's hoodwinked and has a cable toe (a rope around his neck that looks like a tiny noose), and his body is free of all medals. In this condition he is lead to the door of the lodge.

The strange thing about this ceremony is that the candidate is asked to swear to an oath and he doesn't even know what that oath is. The Master walks up to the candidate and says, "You're going to swear an oath. It's my pleasant duty to inform you, that there's absolutely nothing in this oath that will conflict with your duty to God, your country, your neighbor or yourself. Having said this, if you wish to proceed, say I will, and repeat after me." This oath is an outlandish lie. This oath is a contradiction in itself, plus the candidate is blindfolded so he doesn't know, or can see what's going on around him. It's a fraternity initiation, so senior members will try and scare the candidate and make him nervous. Here's a small recitation at the end of the Entered Apprentice Oath, given by the Master and recited by the candidate, while the candidate's hand rests on the bible.

"All this I most solemnly and sincerely promise and swear with a firm and steadfast purpose to keep and perform the same. Binding myself under no less a penalty than that of having my throat cut across, my tongue torn out by its roots and my body buried in the rough sands of the sea, where the tide ebbs and flows twice in twenty-four hours, should I ever knowingly violate this my Entered Apprentice obligation, so help me God, and keep me steadfast and due performance of the same."

The full oath can be found in a book called Modern Secret Societies, written by Charles Albert Blanchard, written on page 228.

Here are the oaths in Short:

- Entered Apprentice (EA)- Throat cut, tongue buried in the sands of the sea (1st degree oath)
- Fellow Craft (FC)- Heart plucked out, placed on highest pinnacle of temple (2nd degree oath)
- Master Mason (MM)- Disemboweled, Bowels burnt to ashes (3rd degree oath)
- Royal Arch Mason- Top of the skull smote off, brain exposed to rays of noon day sun (7th degree of York Rite oath)

There are a great amount of dark rituals that take place during Masonic ceremonies depending on what level one is moving up to. The above example gives you an idea of the dark side of the lowest member entering (a Blue Lodge member).

Mormon Temple Ordinances and Secret Oaths

In the Mormon Church there is a need for the "Priesthood," and there is no authority without it. One cannot be baptized, sealed, married; or cannot have their sins forgiven without Priesthood. Young boys normally receive their Priesthood around fourteen years of age. Only men can hold Priesthood. There's a funny saying that the Mormon women recite, they can only hold their Priesthood (men) when they go to bed in the evening.

The Sacrament is conducted weekly at sacrament meetings. It's like taking communion at a Catholic church, but instead of a cracker and wine, the Mormons use white Wonder bread and water. Water doesn't represent blood, but its used because Joseph Smith (supposedly while carrying wine for communion) was stopped by an angel and told to poor the wine out because it was poisoned. So water is now used. A famous Mormon Apostle, Orson Pratt once said, "The blood of Jesus has no more power, than the power of a dead dog." This is a direct way of dishonoring the Son, but in truth the so-called communion is a fabricated pagan ritual designed by ancient traditions and placed in the New Testament by the Greeks.

The Mormons believe they need a "Living Profit to help them interpret the scriptures, because a living profit is better than a dead profit. So if you are reading in the Old Testament, Isaiah teachings don't matter because he's what they consider a dead prophet. Currently the living profit is Mormon President, Thomas S. Monson. He was considered a trader to some of his Church members, when he revealed Temple content and secrets to George Bush on May 30th, 2008. I will elaborate on the Mason/Mormon "Secret Combination" in chapter eight, One World Religion.

So what are the secrets of the Mormon Temple, and do they really mirror Masonic Temple rituals? The Mormons are taught that their temples are virtually identical to the temple that Solomon (a Black King) built. The construction of the Mormon Temple is based on what Joseph Smith learned from Masonry, and that's why most Mormon Temples face eastward (sun worship) and look like Masonic Temples (a Solomon Temple Replica). Once inside a Mormon Temple, the ordinances begin.

Baptism For The Dead

Inside a Mormon temple is the large baptismal font, large enough to accommodate several people standing waist-deep in water. The font rests on the backs of twelve life-size sculpted oxen in a special room. It is here that baptisms for the dead are performed. The proxies are usually a group of teenage Mormons who come in groups for a Temple baptism for the dead. They Dress in white, and line up and enter the water. Before immersion by the officiators, there is a short baptismal prayer:

"Having authority given me of Jesus Christ, I baptize you for and in behalf of (Name), who is dead, in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen."

The name of the dead person is read from a list to the officiator just before they submerged. One proxy may be baptized quickly in succession for ten or fifteen dead people. After the baptisms, two other officiators confirm the newly baptized dead persons as members of the Mormon Church and award them the gift of the Holy Ghost, by placing their hands upon the head of each proxy, with a similar short pronouncement. Hundreds of such baptisms and confirmations can be performed in a few hours.

LDS may continue to conceal one particular Baptisms For the Dead that was made for the death of the world's greatest tyrant. It's recorded by the Mormon Church in Temple Records that on September 30th, 1993, in the Jordan River Temple in Utah, proxy Temple Baptism for Adolf Hiedler (Hitler) and his spouse Eva Braun had been performed as seen on the previous page. So Hitler is now "Born again," in the Mormon Church. To make matters worse in the eyes of all Jewish people around the world, The Mormon Church "Endowed" Hitler on April 27, 1994. Endowment is an ordinance (ritual ceremony) designed to prepare participants to become kings, queens, priests, and priestesses in the afterlife.

Hitler's was responsible for the following death tolls according to declassified British and Soviet documents:

- 5.1–6.0 million Jews, including 3.0–3.5 million Polish Jews 1.8 –1.9 million non-Jewish Poles (includes all those killed in executions or those that died in prisons, labor, and concentration camps, as well as civilians killed in the 1939 invasion and the 1944 Warsaw Uprising)
- 500,000–1.2 million Serbs killed by Croat Nazis
- 200,000–800,000 Roma & Sinti
- 200,000–300,000 people with disabilities
- 80,000–200,000 Freemasons [23]
- 100,000 communists
- 10,000–25,000 homosexual men
- 2,000 Jehovah's Witnesses

Mormon Temple Ritual Mimics Masonic ritual

According the Mormon Church, Adolph Hitler's soul is now saved and he sits on a throne in the afterlife.

The Endowment (The Mormon Freemason Connection)

Since first introduced by Joseph Smith in the 1840s, the endowment rituals have undergone numerous changes, many of them being the removal of parts of the ceremony. In the early 20th century the "Oath of Vengeance" was removed. About 1920 the garment was modified. In the late 1930's the wording of the penalties was softened. In the 1960's the endowment was presented using motion pictures. About that time the patrons were allowed to remain partially covered with the shield during the washing and anointing, and patrons were allowed to wear the regular street garment during the ceremony rather than the older temple garment. In 1990 the penalties were completely deleted, the "Five Points of Fellowship" was deleted, the sectarian minister was removed from the drama, the wording of the "Oath of Obedience" was changed for the women.

The "Five Points of Fellowship" was eliminated from the Mormon endowment ritual but is still performed in the Masonic Temples today. Not only did Joseph Smith not change the name of this secret Master Mason Initiation Ritual, he didn't change the ritual, itself. It was exact when compared to the Masonic time of Smith, including signs, tokens blood penalties. Smith's own declaration was that God revealed the endowment, but this is false and be proven by reading the Masonic Handbook. According to the Handbook of Masonry, the Five Points of Fellowship is described as follow:

"Brother, foot to foot teaches you that you should, whenever asked, go on a brother's errand, if within the length of your cable-tow, even if you should have to go barefoot and bareheaded. Knee to knee, that you should always remember a Master Mason in your devotions to Almighty God. Breast to breast, that you should keep the Master Mason's secrets, when given to you in charge as such, as secure and inviolable in your breast as they were in his own before communicated to you. Hand to back, that you should support a Master Mason behind his back as before his face. Mouth to ear, that you should support his good name as well behind his back as before his face."

In 2005 the washing and anointing rituals were made completely "symbolic," with the patron being touched only on the head. So it seems at times that Mormons change their rituals more than their protective underwear.

Some Mormons do not realize that their temple Endowment ceremony was copied directly from occult rites in Masonry. The Mormon temple ceremony has no connection at all with Christianity, but in fact was derived from the beginning Masonic ceremony that ultimately leads to the introduction of their true god, Lucifer the Satan. When Smith became an Entered Apprentice Mason, Abraham Jonas (Grandmaster of the Illinois Lodge), waived the usual thirty-day wait between degrees.

Smith admitted to being a Mason in his History of the Church (vol. 4, page 551). Smith's entry on March 15, 1842 states, "In the evening I received the first degree in Free Masonry in the Nauvoo Lodge, assembled in my general business office" (History of the Church vol. 4, page 551). The very next day he noted becoming a Master Mason, "I was with the Masonic Lodge and rose to the sublime degree" (Ibid., page 552).

Dr. Reed Durham, who was president of the Mormon History Association, noted:

"There is absolutely no question in my mind that the Mormon ceremony which came to be known as the Endowment, introduced by Joseph Smith to Mormon Masons, had an immediate inspiration from Masonry. It is also obvious that the Nauvoo Temple architecture was in part, at least, Masonically influenced. Indeed, it appears that there was an intentional attempt to utilize Masonic symbols and motifs. . . ." (Mormon Miscellaneous, pub. David C. Martin, October, 1975, pages 11-16).

Less than two months after becoming a Master Mason, Smith introduced the "Endowment" ceremony. For this ceremony, Smith copied Masonic rites from a book called Freemasonry Exposed (1827) by Captain William Morgan, which was given to him by Morgan's widow, Lucinda Harris. When one compares the Nauvoo ceremony with the Masonic rite in Morgan's book, one easily sees the Masonic influence on the Mormon rite. The two rites resemble each other to the point of being identical at places. Morgan's account was an exposé of his local York Rite's "Craft" degrees.

One can easily see the similarities between Masonic and Mormon rites. The penalty for revealing the First Token of the Aaronic Priesthood, Smith copied from the penalty of disclosing the first degree known as the "Entered Apprentice" of Freemasonry.

Mormon text: "We, and each of us, covenant and promise that we will not reveal any of the secrets of this, the first token of the Aaronic priesthood, with its accompanying name, sign or penalty. Should we do so, we agree that our throats be cut from ear to ear and our tongues torn out by their roots" (W. M. Paden, Temple Mormonism, 1931, page 18).

Mason text: "I will . . . never reveal any part or parts, art or arts, point or points of the secret arts and mysteries of ancient Freemasonry . . . binding myself under no less penalty than to have my throat cut across, my tongue torn out by the roots. . . ." (William Morgan, Freemasonry Exposed, 1827, pages 21-22)

Now let's compare the Second Token of the Aaronic Priesthood with the Second Degree (Fellow Craft) oath:

Mormon text: "We and each of us do covenant and promise that we will not reveal the secrets of this, the Second Token of the Aaronic Priesthood, with its accompanying name, sign, grip, or penalty. Should we do so, we agree to have our breasts cut open and our hearts and vitals torn from our bodies and given to the birds of the air and the beasts of the field" (Paden, page 20)

Mason text: "I . . . most solemnly and sincerely promise and swear . . . that I will not give the degree of a Fellow Craft Mason to any one of an inferior degree, nor to any other being in the known world . . . binding myself under no less penalty than to have my left breast torn open and my heart and vitals taken from thence . . . to become a prey to the wild beasts of the field, and vulture of the air. . . ." (Morgan, page 52).

Besides similar penalties, there are also similar signs, arm positions, ear whisperings, passwords and handgrips. For instance, compare the "First Token of the Aaronic Priesthood" grip with the "First Degree" Masonic grip:

Mason text:

"What is this?"

Ans. "A grip."

"A grip of what?"

Ans. "The grip of an Entered Apprentice Mason."

"Has it a name?"

Ans. "It has."

"Will you give it to me?"

Ans. "I did not so receive it, neither can I so impart it." (Morgan, pp. 23-24).

This embarrassment became too great for the Mormon Church. Knowing that Smith copied Masonic rites for the Endowment ceremony, the Mormon officials expunged the "Five Points of Fellowship" and the Penalties from the Endowment in 1990.

Although Freemasons use names and trappings from the Bible, Freemasonry is an occult organization. Various books have traced the occult roots of Masonry. Masonry forces its members to address all prayers to the Great Architect of the Universe (GAOTU). Masons have been forced out of the organization if they prayed to Jesus, because Masonic motivation is to deceive the world and it's members into satanic worship and or ideology.

In the Masonic initiation, the initiate bares his left breast and rolls up his left pant leg over the knee. A slipper replaces his right shoe and his eyes are blindfolded. A noose is placed around his neck, and he is led to the outer door of the Masonic temple. The blindfold symbolizes his being in outer darkness outside of Freemasonry. A sharp point is pricked on his breast, and he is made to kneel before an altar, behind which stands "The Worshipful Master," which presides over the ceremony. The initiate is then required to say that he is lost in darkness and is seeking the light of Freemasonry. A Christian cannot say that he is lost in darkness, since a Christian, by definition (1 John 1:4-7), walks in the light of Messiah. He would be lying if he took this oath.

At the Blue Lodge ceremony, the initiate is given a white lambskin apron, as an emblem of a spotless and pure life, to bring before the "Great White Throne" when he dies (Masonic Monitors, the Craft ritual manual). We should all learn that, "To God, good deeds alone are as filthy rags."

Dr. Albert Pike was a Masonic authority that wrote Morals and Dogma of the Ancient and Accepted Rite. He was the Sovereign Grand Commander of the Southern Supreme Council, A.A., Scottish Rite, for 32 years. The current Sovereign Grand Commander, C. Fred Kleinknecht, noted, "Pike's great book, Morals and Dogma, is the most complete exposition of Masonic philosophy there is."

In Morals and Dogma, Albert Pike admits that Freemasonry is a religion (pages 210, 213, 219). Among others, Masonic authorities Albert Mackey (Encyclopedia of Masonry, pages 618-619) and Henry Coil (Coil's Masonic Encyclopedia, page 512) admit that Freemasonry is a religion.

The Masonic definition of god as polytheistic is not compatible with the Biblical, monotheistic God. Neither is the Masonic plan of salvation—works, moralist, Masonic rituals compatible with the narrow Christian path to salvation of confessing sins (1 John 1:9), repenting from sin (Mark 1:15; Acts 2:38), having faith in Christ (John 3:14-18), being born again of the Spirit (John 3:3-8) and reading the Bible in earnest (2 Timothy 3:15). This is so because higher members know the secrets of the New Testament and how much of it was made up to deliver power to Constantine. As you know by now, I personally don't belong to any religion, because of its division and dishonesty, but the reason why I'm using contradicting scripture from the Holy Bible is because Masons and Mormons claim to be Christians.

Scripture says there is only one true God (Deut. 4:35,39; 6:4; 32:39; Isaiah 43:10; 44:6,8; 45:5). God commands us to have no other gods before Him (Exodus 20:1-5), yet Masonry, by definition, bows to all gods and refuses to acknowledge the God of the Bible as Lord.

After earning the three Blue Lodge degrees, and having completed the Scottish or York Rite degrees, Masons can petition to become Shriners, who swear to a blood oath and who confess Allah as god (The Mystic Shrine: An Illustrated Ritual of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Shrine, 1975, pages 20-22). "Allah" is not just another name for God; Allah is the name of another god.

Joseph Smith copied the Mormon Endowment ceremony directly from the Blue Lodge degrees of Freemasonry, and he borrowed Masonic symbolism, such as the Masonic markings on underwear Mormons wear. Over the right breast in occult Mormon underwear is a carpenter's square, and over the left, a Mason's compass. The opening at the navel is symbolic of the evisceration penalty for disclosing Mormon secrets. Mormons are taught that their underwear, and in particular its Masonic markings, "Will be a shield and a protection" to them from the power of the destroyer (Bruce R. McConkie, The Mortal Messiah, vol. 2, page 295).

When the underwear becomes worn-out, Mormons may use them as an old rag, but only if they cut out and burn the patches with the Masonic square and compass because the occult power is located in the Masonic symbolism. Mormon Buildings also have occult markings that are displayed in plain sight. The inverted pentagram is prominently displayed not only at the Salt Lake City Temple, but also at the entry of the LDS Museum just across South Temple Street, as well as on the new statuary honoring Moroni in Manti, Utah. The inverted pentagram is a symbol of Satanism.

According to the Encyclopedia of Occultism and Parapsychology, "The Pentagram, the sign of the Microcosm, was held to be the most powerful means of conjuration in any rite . . . with two points in the ascendant it was the sign of Satan" (vol. 2, page 552). The inverted pentagram is also called the "Baphomet," or "Goat of Mendes." It is on the cover of Anton LaVey's satanic Bible, and it is on the Salt Lake City temple as seen on the previous page.

In the architecture of Mormon buildings are various other Masonic and occult symbols. The Nauvoo temple had decorative caps called, "Sunstones" on pilasters. The Sunstone depicts a sun with a radiant, but goofy human face (top right). There were thirty of the 2.5-ton white limestone sunstones decorating the temple columns before the temple was destroyed. There were also thirty "Moonstones" and "Starstones." Mormon elder William Weeks was the architect for the 128 by 88 foot Nauvoo temple, although Joseph Smith occasionally interfered and asked for changes, such as round windows on the second floor and Sunstones. Smith had a "Vision" in which the sunstone represented the Mormon "Celestial Kingdom." The term, "Celestial Kingdom" is similar to the Masonic "Celestial Lodge Above."

The source of the sunstone is the Egyptian sun god Ra (Horus-Ra). Egyptians saw the sun as dying and being reborn each day. To Egyptians, the sun god Ra made this diurnal journey in his solar bark. Dr. Samuel Mercer was one of the eight Egyptian antiquities experts who were quoted in Franklin S. Spalding's booklet Joseph Smith, Jr., as a Translator (Salt Lake City, Utah: The Arrow Press, 1912).

NOTE: The architectural designs in these LDS buildings are blasphemous. They illustrate sun worship, Satanism, moon worship, the all-seeing-eye of Nimrod (Satan) and down at the bottom left, the circles indicate Saturn worship.

All eight of the Egyptian antiquities experts, of course, found Smith's explanations of Facsimiles completely false. Dr. Mercer was distinguished as the custodian of the Hibbard Collection of Egyptian reproductions, the most complete collection in the United States (The Utah Survey, vol. 1, no. 1, September, 1913, page 3). Dr. Mercer noted that the personage in Figure 3 is Ra (Ibid. page 23). In his numbered explanations of Facsimiles in the Book of Abraham, Smith wrote that Figure 3 represents "God, sitting upon his throne"(Joseph Smith, Pearl of Great Price). The Egyptian sun god, then, represents the Mormon god.

All Three Make Up Figure-3

Besides the All-Seeing-Eye, the Salt Lake City temple also has as a part of its architecture Ursa Major, Cloudstones, Starstones, Sunstones, Moonstones, Earthstones, Saturnstones and the demon Moroni. The clasped hands on the Salt Lake City temple were also derived from Masonic symbolism. The Mormon beehive is a Masonic emblem of industry and virtue. The 1854 architect's drawing of the south elevation has Saturnstones over each Sunstone on the main buttresses of the central body of the temple. In 1870, Brigham Young moved the Saturnstones to a more obscure pattern atop five of the six spires of the temple. The sixth and highest topped is with the so-called, Moroni.

Next to Moroni, the Saturnstones has the grand position on the building. The pagan Roman god, Saturn, is the source of the Saturnstone. In Mormon symbolism, Moroni, the blood spurting ghost of a Spaniard who was murdered as an enchantment to guard treasure, occupies the grand position on the temple. The next highest position is occupied by a symbol for the pagan god Saturn.

The seventh degree in Masonry, known as the "Supreme Order of the Holy Royal Arch," the initiate learns "god's" secret name, "Jahbulon." The name Jahbulon is a composite name from Jah-Bul-On. It joins Jehovah (Jah) with two pagan gods, the pagan Canaanite deity Baal (Bul) and the Egyptian god Osiris (On). According to Masonic authorities Henry Wilson Coil and Malcom C. Duncan, "Jah" refers to Jehovah. "Bul" refers to the Assyrian or Canaanite deity Baal, and "On" refers to the Egyptian deity Osiris (Henry Wilson Coil, Coil's Masonic Encyclopedia, New York, Macoy Publishing and Masonic Supply, 1961, pages 516-517; Malcom C. Duncan, Masonic Ritual and Monitor, New York, David Mckay Co., nd., page 226; Dr. Ron Carlson, Fast Facts on False Teachings, Eugene, Oregon, Harvest House, 1994, page 86). The name, Jahbulon, has similarities to that of the two brothers (Jabal and Jåbal) born from Lamech and his wife Adah found in Genesis 4:22.

The evidence was collected with a non-discriminate heart. It's clear that Joseph Smith's LDS Church is saturated in satanic roots. In the Bible, God does not allow His name to be mixed with pagan gods. Baal and Egyptian gods are all completely detestable in God's eyes. God is a very jealous God, and He has severe consequences for those who worship another. Most of the Bible is about hard punishment on Hebrews who inherited or commingled with Baal, or other pagan gods. By printing the initials J.B.O. for the secret name "Jahbulon," The Ritual Book of the Craft states:

"We three do meet and agree—in peace, love and unity—the Sacred Word to keep—and never to divulge the same—until we three, or three such as we—do meet and agree."

No man should take the name of the angel of the abyss, Abaddon, as a "Sacred word." Here's what God teaches us:

"Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God."

-Ezekiel 20:7 (KJV)

In the seventeenth degree of the Scottish Rite and The Knights of the East and West Degree, the secret password is Jahbulon, and their sacred word is, Abaddon. Here's what the Bible says about the word Abaddon in Revelation:

"They have as king over them, the angel of the abyss; his name in Hebrew is Abaddon [destruction], and in the Greek he has the name Apollyon [destroyer]."

-Revelation 9:11 (KJV)

Masonic Temple Layout

The Mormon Temples derived from Masonic Temples and are uniquely laid out with great precision. They are normally oriented towards the east, opposed to Solomon's Temple, which faced in a westward position, with an eastern entrance. It is a known fact that those who worship towards the East, worship the sun god (Satin) and are against God. This is why Solomon built his temple facing west, because he was "One" with God, and he worshiped with his back toward the East (Satin). Every Masonic alters face the East so in essence, all members are turning their back on God, just as it was done in Babylon, Egypt, Greece, Persia, and Rome amongst a few. The oxymoron is that Masonic Temples were built to mirror Solomon's Temple, except its positioning is turned around in 180 degrees (Backwards). Elders of Israel, turned their back on the Ark of the Covenant, and worshipped towards the rising sun.

There is explicit sun worship that is conducted inside of the Masonic Lodge. When the Worshipful Master is sitting enthroned in the East, the ritual says, "As the sun rises in the East to rule and govern the day, so rises the Worshipful Master in the East, to rule and govern his lodge.” This ritual is absolutely contrary to what is constructed in the bible as God’s home. God had Solomon’s Temple built this way because all around the Temple were nations of Paganism, rooted into sun and male phallus (erect penis) worship.

Once inside the temple, the famous black and white checkered flooring is visible. The black and white checkered floor has existed in temples since the times of ancient Egypt. More than simply decorative, the mosaic pavement bears a profound esoteric meaning. Today it is one of Freemasonry’s most recognizable symbols and is the ritualistic floor of all Masonic lodges. The pavement is the area on which initiations occur and is “Emblematic of human life, checkered with good and evil.”

According to occult researchers, the checkered mosaic pavement has historically represented the House of the Mysteries and its origins can be traced back to ancient Egypt and the Dionysiac rites. In the Entered Apprentice Degree, the mosaic pavement represents the ground floor of King Solomon’s Temple, but this is not true. According to record, the ground flooring of King Solomon’s Temple was made of pine or fir, depending on the Bible translation (1 King 6:15).

While the pavement of most lodges consist of a black and white checkered pattern, the colors might vary. Lozenges might also be used instead of squares. The Masonic floors can also be found in Cathedrals such as Notre Dame de Paris, a Cathedral built by the Knight Templar (the spiritual ancestors of the Freemasons). Some claim that the mosaic pavement serves as a “Magical circle.” This magical circle in used for inter-dimensional travel and communication. The deeper meaning of the mosaic is therefore said to transcend the limits of the material realm. The Third Degree Ritual States: “The square pavement is for the High Priest to walk upon”. It’s not only the Jewish High Priest of centuries ago that is being referred to, but also the individual member of the Craft. For every Mason is intended to be the High Priest of his own personal temple and to make of it a place where he and Deity may meet. By the mere fact of being in this dualistic world every living being, whether a Mason or not, walks upon the square pavement of mingled good and evil in every action of his life, so that the floor-cloth is the symbol of an elementary philosophical truth common to us all.

Masonic Symbols

There is one secret Masonic symbol that is not attached to their temple, but you know Freemason are near when you see, an "Obelisk" (an erect phallic).

Obelisk: An Erect Phallus Hidden In Plain Sight

The obelisk is the most blatant symbol of Freemasonry's obsession with Egypt that is not hidden in its temples. They stand in public view in the centre of London, Paris, New York, and Washington D.C and Vatican City. How they came to be erected shows both the immense power of Freemasons in the 19th Century and their love affair with the most evocative symbol of all Egyptian, "Godless" religions.

To early Egyptians, the obelisk was the shape sacred to the sun god Re or Ra; who was known as the creator of humanity, the source of all heat and light, to which man was totally dependent. By the fifth dynasty, Ra had become so popular he was elevated to the role of State Deity. His main centre of worship was On-Heliopolis where the first kings erected primitive obelisks, rough-hewn and truncated, but tipped off by the pyramidion shape, which distinguishes obelisks from other monumental columns. These prototype obelisks were known as "Benben" stone.

The spirit of the sun god was supposed to enter the stones at certain periods, and on these occasions human sacrifices were offered to it. At On-Heliopolis king after king erected Benbens in Ra's honor. By 1300 B.C. the city was full of obelisks; some decorated with gold to resemble the sun's rays, others with inscriptions glorifying Ra's daily passage through the skies, or hailing earthly occasions such as victories, feasts and jubilees.

The Pharaohs' of later dynasties switched their obelisk erecting affections to Osiris; god of the earth, vegetation, and the Nile flood that gave life to all Egypt; god of rebirth; god also of the underworld, the last judgments, and life and death. As this cult became ever more popular, the priests at Heliopolis shrewdly grafted it on to re-worshipping by claiming Osiris was Ra's grandson. This ensured that Heliopolis remained the greatest religious centre in Egypt and the entire Mediterranean region. Even the Roman author Pliny knew of this city where kings entered into a kind of rivalry in forming elongated blocks of stone, known as obelisks, and consecrated them to the divinity of the Sun.

The Egyptians found Osiris particularly attractive because of the bittersweet myth of his life, death and reincarnation. This has been told many times in many ways, but Masonic historians have tended to agree on a version that satisfies their ritual needs (which can be found in this chapter under Egypt, Babylon Rebirth).

In short, Set, (King Osiris' brother), turned on his brother and had him killed. Osiris' body was cut up, and his wife Isis went out and collected all but the one piece of Osiris' body parts (his penis). Isis manufactured an artificial male organ, which the Egyptians established a cult and festival around. The Benben or Obelisk was itself a phallic symbol symbolizing fatherhood known as "The rock that begot."

The Freemason believe that Hiram Abiff is Osiris reborn and the obelisk his erect private part. Hiram was the chief architect of the Solomon's Temple. "Hiram Abiff," is not a real person. It's a name made up the Masons. Abiff is a Hebrew word meaning, "The son of a widow."

There are more than thirty obelisk in the world including seven in Egypt, thirteen in Rome, and twenty or more around the world including Washington D.C. Twenty-one of these erect monuments are from Egypt, but only five of them still exist in Egypt. These monuments are what Freemasons worship (phallic worship). In rituals and ceremonies, Masons wear different leather white apron based on the degree they are graduating to. The very secret in these aprons, is that it covers their private parts in which they worship.

The Square and Compass

James Shaw and Tom McKenney give an accurate account of how certain symbols are used their book, "Deadly Deception." They discuss how the Blue Lodge Masons are taught that the Square is to remind them that they must be "Square" in their dealings with all men, like being honest for example. Blue Lodge Members are taught that The Compass is to teach them to circumscribe their passions, as in being able to control their desires and to be temperate.

The real meaning of these "Great lights," however, is sexual. The Square represents the female (passive) generative principle, the earth, and the baser, sensual nature; and the Compass represents the male (active) generative principle, the sun/heavens, and the higher, spiritual nature. The Compass, arranged above the Square, symbolizes the (male) Sun, impregnating the passive (female) Earth with its life-producing rays. The true meanings then are two-fold:

1) The earthly (human) representations are of the man and his phallus, and the woman with her receptive cteis (vagina).

2) The cosmic meaning is that of the active Sun (deity, the Sun-god) from above, imparting life into the passive Earth, (deity, the earth/fertility goddess) below and producing new life.

The "G" Meaning

The Blue Lodge Mason is taught that the "G" in the Masonic symbol represents, God. Later on, he is told that it also represents "Deity." He's also told that it represents "Geometry." In reality, this letter represents the "Generative principle," the sun god and, thus, the worshipped phallus, the male "generative principle..." (as described in Obelisk section of this chapter). In its position (along with the Square and Compass) on the east wall over the chair (throne) of the Worshipful Master, it is the representation of the sun, thus of the Sun-god, Osiris. Its earthly meaning, then, is of the sacred phallus; its cosmic meaning is of the Sun, worshipped since antiquity by pagans while facing the East where the sun god rises.

The "G" and the "Yod"

The English letter "G" in Masonic symbolism is inseparable from, and identical with, the Hebrew letter "YOD." This "YOD" is the symbol on the Scottish Rite ring. "YOD" represents deity in general (its cosmic meaning), and the worshipped phallus in particular (its earthly meaning). Albert Pike wrote that the "G" displayed in English speaking lodges is merely a corruption of the "YOD" (with which it should be replaced), and that "The mysterious YOD of the Kabala" is the "Image of the Kabalistic Phallus." The "Kabalah" he refers to here is a medieval book of the occult, a highly mystical and magical interpretation of the Bible, and important sourcebook for sorcerers and magicians.

The Point Within a Circle

The Masons of the Blue Lodge are taught that the Point within a Circle represents the individual Mason (the Point), contained and restricted by the boundary line of his duty (the Circle). This isn't true either; it's very sexual, meaning the phallus is positioned within the female generative principle (sex organ), the climactic act of sun-god worship.

Dr. Albert Mackey, already quoted herein, also writes in his classic work "Symbolism of Freemasonry," page 352, "Phallus, a representation of the virile member which was venerated as a religious symbol... It was one of the modifications of sun worship, and was a symbol of the fecundating power of that luminary. The Masonic point within a circle is undoubtedly of phallic origin.”

The Vertical Line

The two vertical lines touching the sides of the circle are represented to the Blue Lodge Mason as “The Holy Saints John,” meaning John the Baptist and John the Apostle. In reality, the two vertical lines represent the Summer and Winter Solstices, the shortest and longest nights of the year, respectively. These nights are, and have been since antiquity, important periods for pagan worship, such as Halloween, Christmas, and Easter. All three of these holidays are highly satanic ritual days.

Concerning these two lines, Albert Mackey has written (“Symbolism of Freemasonry,” page 352), “The lines touching the circle in the symbol of the point within a circle are said to represent St. John the Baptist and St. John the Evangelist, but they really refer to the solstitial points, Cancer and Capricorn, in the Zodiac.”

The numbers 33 and 3 are both featured prominently in occult doctrine. The great significance of the number 33 cannot be fully understood unless it is combined with the most important science of Free Masonry, navigation. The compass and square, the most visible symbols of Masonry are also the basic tools of navigation and map making.

Calculation of speed and location under the heavens is considered to be the highest form of sacred knowledge from antiquity. Navigation unites time with space and the heavens with the earth. The number 3 is essential to this process. Without the geometry of the 3-sided triangle, establishing location and distance on a map or “Triangulation,” is impossible. Navigation not only predicts the destination of a traveler on the earth but also the time the traveler will arrive. The most powerful secret held by the occult is related to this concept taken to a higher level.

As the navigator can use increments of the earth’s latitude and longitude to determine location in space and time, these increments can be measured in the earth itself to reveal the appointed time of humanity’s destiny. The following shows why the number 33 and the compass and square are such important symbols of the illumined elite: 33.33 degrees of the great circle of the earth represents 2,012.9 nautical miles. Mount Hermon in Phoenicia, the first location of extraterrestrial influence upon man, lies precisely at 33.33° north and 33.33° east: 2,012.9 miles from the equator and 2,012.9 miles from the Paris Meridian, which was often used as the prime meridian throughout history and is the meridian to which many ancient structures are aligned. Additionally, the Knights Templar used the Paris Meridian as the prime meridian. (The Paris Meridian is 2.20 degrees east of the Greenwich Meridian, which was established as the prime meridian at the 1884 International Meridian Conference in Washington DC.) While the latitude measurement is standard, just 33.33 degrees north from the equator to Mt. Hermon, the longitude of the earth based on the Paris Meridian seems to have been regarded as increasingly “Sensitive,” due to the wider spreading of knowledge during the industrial revolution it had to be concealed. The 1884 International Meridian Conference in Washington DC was heavily influenced by the eminent Albert Pike, as well as by the elite, other members of Illuminati, and the Vatican.

Some believe the chosen location of the first connection of heaven with the earth on Mt. Hermon at 33.33° (2012 miles from the equator and the Paris Meridian) set in time the final phase of a new world order in the past year of 2012. But how is the year 2012 anchored in time? Dates and years were commonly measured from the start of the reign of a king or at the founding of a new city in antiquity. Our modern calendar is aligned to the birth of the Saviour of Israel, Yasha, though even this "Anchor point" is not fixed absolutely because records of Yasha's real birth has been obliterated (9/11 3BCE). I didn't believe anything would happen in December 2012 and it didn't. If something were to happen during that year, we would have to take into account that Yasha was born in September (The 9th month of the year) and that there's a .9 (as if, 9 months) after the 2,012 miles from the equator and Paris Meridian. I'm sure the Freemason's know this, so my best estimate for the next dramatic event planned by the Illuminati will be September 29th, 2029 and not December 21st 2012. $9+2+9+2+0+2+9= 33$ (09/29/2029).

33 may very well be the most sacred, most powerful number of all. Solomon's Signet Ring With Seal Diagram, In the book "Isis Unveiled," by Madame Blavatsky, we see a drawing that depicts Blavatsky's handmade drawing of King Solomon's signet ring, with its seal as see here. Notice the uneven hexagram and the numbers "333" placed at different points on this seal. What is the occult fascination with the number 33, and its extension, 333? Once you understand the belief Satanists have about this number, you will understand certain events in history more completely. For example, when Adolf Hitler planned his suicide, he decided to (fake) shooting himself on April 30, 1945, at precisely 3:30 p.m., thus setting up a 333 by which the deed was done. He knew this made his death look authentic in the eyes of Freemasons who believed that this 333 would allow him to pass quickly through the reincarnation cycle so he could come back to earth as the real, historic Antichrist. The other side to this story is that it was a warning to secret society that he was still alive. Numerology was at work in this planned death that was represented 3's.

Now, let us examine the power the Satanist believes resides in 33 and 333. Here's a quote from White Magic practitioner, Elizabeth van Buren, in her book, "The Secret of the Illuminati," as she openly reveals Luciferian thought and values in her New Age book:

"Thirty-three appears to be the most mysterious of numbers. It is found over and over again in the stories of the Bible and elsewhere. Jesus Christ was thirty-three when he was crucified; the first temple of Solomon stood for thirty-three years before being pillaged by King Shishak of Egypt; there are thirty-three symbols of the Masonic Order and one of their symbols depicts a double-headed eagle crowned with an equilateral triangle: inside of this is the number thirty-three (page 160)."

Van Buren continues:

"In the Vishnu-Purana Book 1, it states: These thirty-three divinities exist age after age, and their appearance and disappearance is in the same number as the sun sets and rises again (page 160-1)."

In the Tibetan Book of the Dead, it speaks of the thirty-three heavens ruled over by Indra and the thirty-three ruled over by Mara ... The Temple of Solomon was a cube, measuring thirty-three and a third feet; we once more turn to the Bible to read:

"Thus David, the son of Jesse, reigned over all Israel. And the time that he reigned over Israel was forty years; seven years reigned he in Hebron, and thirty and three years reigned he in Jerusalem. -1 Chronicles 29:27

Meaning, King David reigned in Jerusalem for 33 years. Van Buren tells us exactly why numbers are important, so that she may tell us exactly the significance of the number, 33 and 333.

"Students of Numerology are well aware that numbers affect a person's life. One's name, place, and time of birth all have an influence on one's physical, mental, and spiritual being. Each letter as number has a certain vibratory effect ... the picture produced by the various combinations gives an understanding of the character, karma, and potentialities of the person ... in Spiritual Numerology, the numbers 11, 22, and 33 are the three 'Master Numbers,' the highest being 33 ... This highest of the master numbers was the age of the Master Initiate Jesus at his death, resurrection and ascension, giving more esoteric accents. The 33 symbolizes the highest spiritual conscious attainable by the human being (page 161-162 Ibid.)."

Thus, Yasha (Jesus), called here the "Master Initiate," was 33 at the time of His death; then, when the occultist adds the number 3 for the number of days Jesus spent in the tomb, he gets 333 as a calculation for the entire event through which the occultist considers Yasha to have passed. As van Burn states, "Christ lay in the tomb for three days after his crucifixion, a symbol for us of the steps man must take in order to be reborn. The number 333 speaks of death, resurrection, and ascension (page 162-3 Ibid)."

NOTE: Yasha's ascension did not occur for 40 days after He arose, but evidently, occultists have not examined the Scriptures carefully.

Occultists assign the number 333 to death, resurrection, and ascension, and consider it to be most powerful. With this, we understand how important it was to Adolf Hitler to arrange the timing of his death to form a 333. He wanted to attain the number of "Death, resurrection, and ascension" so that he might come back more quickly in the reincarnation cycle, this time becoming the real Antichrist.

Doubtless, Hitler was also guided by the final revelation of the highest meaning of 33.

“Indeed, there is not death, as can be discerned clearly. There is only Change! The message is that there is a balance, which one can achieve by which one can escape from the wheel of change, from life to death. This balance can be found by becoming fully aware so that both worlds are equally real to one. This awareness is found when the third eye is fully opened, the eye the symbol of which is the number 33 ...”

“Each “3” of the number 33 can be seen to be three-fold in the same way as a triangle has three sides: $3+3+3=9$. In the temples of Atlantis and Egypt the candidate for initiation passed through nine degrees, or rather the three-fold three degrees, into the mysteries. These degrees symbolized the re-entering of the womb in order, after the three times three months of gestation, to be reborn into the world of Spirit-consciousness.”

Van Buren gets to the core meaning assigned to the number 33, which is quite revolting:

“Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.” – John 3:3 (KJV)

The highest meaning of the number, 33, is that it represents the highest spiritual consciousness to which man can attain, and that 333 represents the man-god becoming immortal through his “Death, resurrection and ascension,” just as the occultist considers Master Initiate Yasha to have done. At this point, the man-god experiences a fully functional, visible Third Eye open up within him, an eye people can physically see. This is the personal aim of all occultists. They seek to escape the death/reincarnation cycle, so they never die again.

Further, they seek to bring a “Select number” of citizens of the earth along with them, so that the entire world can begin to go through a path to this highly exalted spiritual consciousness; at this moment, everyone on earth will have a physical Third Eye, just as did the citizenry of Atlantis. Now, who is going to lead the peoples of the world into this highly exalted spiritual journey? The Masonic New Age Christ, will hold this responsibility, so they think, but their arrogance fools them. The number 33 is his highest number, and the number representing the spiritual path to perfection and physically immortality.

1933 -- A MOST IMPORTANT YEAR IN THE OCCULT CALENDAR

The 20th Century was clearly the century in which God withdrew HIS restraining power enough so Satan could cause World Wars I and II to be fought exactly as the Guiding Spirit of Albert Pike revealed to him in 1870. The stage was clearly being set in the last decade of the 20th Century for the Third World War to be fought, between Israel and her Arab neighbors. This coming war may explode into this global war, out of which will come Antichrist.

The Second World War began in the year, 1939. The number, 39, is very special to the occultist, because it is formed by the multiplication of 3 and 13. The number 3 symbolizes the Pagan Trinity, while 13 is the number of ultimate rebellion against God. However, World War II was made possible through the events of 1933. Let's review these key events now.

January 30th, 1933 -- Adolf Hitler was sworn in as Chancellor of Germany. [World Book Encyclopedia, Vol. 9, page 239]. Note that this date also forms a 333. Hitler was considered the "Immortal god-man" until they realized he had chosen the "Left-Hand" path, the Evil path. At that moment on, all White Magic occultists opposed Hitler mightily. At his death, Hitler chose the day and the timing to form a 333, as we noted earlier.

February 27th, 1933 -- Hitler's Nazi soldiers started the fire at the Reichstag parliamentary building, blaming it on the Communists. This fire enflamed the anger and imagination of Germans all over the nation, and led directly to Hitler gaining absolute power shortly thereafter.

March 1933 -- The Jewish Holocaust officially began with the establishment of the concentration camp at Dachau. Over time, Dachau would become one of the infamous killing centers of the entire holocaust effort. Killing of Jews before Kristallnacht in November 1938 was very secretive, with death certificates being issued with phony causes of death.

On March 3, 1933 -- the Federal Reserve Board and the New York Reserve Bank's Governor Harrison had agreed that the Board would issue an order closing all the Federal Reserve Banks. New York Governor Herbert Lehman, at the urging of Governor Harrison, also agreed to proclaim an emergency bank holiday in New York, and a similar action was taken in Illinois. One of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first official acts after taking office on Inauguration Day (Saturday, March 4th, 1933), was to proclaim an emergency, three-day, nationwide banking holiday, signed and effective Monday, March 6th. FDR was a member of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, i.e., the Shriners. Shriners are 33rd degree Masons.

March 4, 1933 -- Masonic President Franklin Roosevelt was sworn in as President of the United States. Together with Rosicrucian Churchill and pagan Josef Stalin, Roosevelt formed the "Planetary triangle" of nations known as the "Allies," that would oppose the "Planetary triangle" of nations known as the "Axis Powers" of Germany, Italy, Japan. Roosevelt was sworn in during the 3rd month, 1933, thereby giving his inauguration an occult value of 333, just like Hitler's ascension to power.

Satan had his men on both sides of the Atlantic: Black Magick Hitler and White Magic 33rd Degree Mason, Roosevelt. World War II was inevitable at this point.

The Bible

The Bible, only one of the "Three Great Lights" of Masonry (along with the Square and Compass), is represented to Blue Lodge Masons as symbolizing truth. In reality, the Bible may be replaced with the Koran, the Book of the Law, The Hindu scriptures or any other "Holy book," depending on the preferences of the men in the Lodge. In most American Lodges, the members are told that all the Masonic system and its rituals are "Based on the Bible." Such, however is not the case. In Chase's "Digest of Masonic Law," pages 207-209, it is clearly written that "Masonry has nothing whatever to do with the Bible," and that "It is not founded upon the Bible, for if it were it would not be Masonry, it would be something else."

Albert Pike, in writing on the subject of Masonry's source book said, "Masonry is a search after light. That search leads us directly back, as you see, to the Kabalah." (Morals and Dogma, page 741). The Kabalah, then, seems to be the actual sourcebook of Masonry and the Bible merely (as it is spoken of in the ritual) a piece of the "Furniture" of the Lodge.

There are a great amount of dark rituals that take place during Masonic ceremonies depending on what level you are moving into. Examples in this chapter give you an idea of the dark side of the lowest Masonic member (a Blue Lodge member).

Skulls and Bones

Skull and Bones (S&B), is another secret society that exist today. It was originally called, "Brotherhood of Death." Established in 1832 S&B is as complete as any society in the world. However, they possess all the requirements of a true secret society. Most S&B frat brothers also hold degrees in Freemasonry.

Family members made up of the Russells' and the Piertponts', founded several scholastic institutions, two of which were Yale and Princeton. Reverend James Piertpont, and Reverend Nodiah Russell, co-founded Yale in 1701. In 1832, General William Huntington Russell and Alfonso Taft, (grandfather of William Howard Taft former U.S. President), founded S&B, or "Brotherhood of Death." Russell's family wealth came from opium smuggling.

The Skull and Bones society is a Satanism-themed fraternity that operates on the campus of Yale University. Only entrants from Yale's student body that are either from top wealthy families or have made serious accomplishments are accepted. Many of their rituals are copied from Masonry. They were co-founded by Alphonse Taft (distant relative of Ezra Taft Benson) and William Huntington Russell (uncle of Jehovah's Witness founder Charles Taze Russell, and related to the Russell family that owned "Russell Bros," one of Brigham Young's original investors that ran the first clothing company and printing press in Salt Lake City.

The first night of the new member (called an initiate) is critically important. The initiate swears total obedience and loyalty to the secret society. This pledge is bound by serious oaths, some of which would be deadly if actually carried out, just as in Freemasonry. The first night is also critically important as it bounds the initiate to the society by means of ritual, oaths, and confessions.

The Skull and Bones also incorporates sexual activities into their practices, just as did the Thule Society. "The ritualistic death of the initiate will be as frightful as the use of human skeletons and ritual psychology can make it..." (Esquire Magazine, "The Last Secrets of Skull and Bones", Ron Rosenbaum, page 89). Sexual perversion is part of this ritual psychology. Ron Rosenbaum, author of the Esquire Magazine article, stated that on initiation night, called tap night, "...if one could climb to the tower of Weir Hall, the odd castle that overlooks the Bones courtyard, one could hear strange cries and moans coming from the bowels of the tomb as the 15 newly tapped members were put through what sounded like a harrowing ordeal..." (Esquire, September 1976, page 86).

Further, initiates "Lay naked in coffins and tell their deepest and darkest sexual secrets as part of their initiation." (Esquire, Page 85). These experiences in the coffins incorporated sexual pain and resulted in being born-again, into the Order, as we mentioned above. (Cooper, page 95) A powerful spiritual force charges through the participants of these ceremonies, transforming their lives dramatically.

This type of ritual is classic Satanism. These fraternity brothers literally lie in a closed coffin and masturbate during their initiation. Anton LaVey states, in his book The Satanic Rituals: Companion To The Satanic Bible,

"The ceremony of rebirth takes place in a large coffin...This is similar to the coffin symbolism that...is found in most lodge rituals."

For any organization to utilize this coffin ritual to simulate rebirth, is practicing Satanism, including Skull and Bones.

The Skull and Bones believes that on the night of initiation, the initiate "Dies to the world and be born again into the Order..." (Esquire Magazine, September 1977, page 89). Remember Hitler believed that he had been born anew after his ritualistic initiation and training. This term is a common one in Satanism. During the 1988 Presidential Campaign, a TV reporter asked Vice-President Bush if he was a Christian. Bush initially stammered, but then said, "If you mean born again, then, yes, I am a Christian." Vice-President Bush answered this question in a very expert manner, simultaneously being true to his own occult foundation while misleading innocent, trusting Christians.

As born-again Christians carry out the ritual of water baptism by immersion to demonstrate that they have died to the old way of life and have been reborn into a new life, Satanists have their coffin ritual to demonstrate the same life transformation. Rosenbaum continues his expose' of the born-again experience: "Then it's into the coffin and off on a symbolic journey through the underworld to rebirth, which takes place in Room Number 322. There, the Order clothes the newborn knight in its own special garments, implying that, henceforth, he will tailor himself to the Order's mission." (Pages 89, and 148).

One of God's greatest creations, which occult pagans worship, is the wonderful system of numbers. Pagans truly believe that numbers and mathematics contains inherent spiritual and temporal power, such as the Skulls and Bone number, 322. I have yet to meet a civilian who knows how to decipher the secrets behind this number. Because I'm left handed, I tend to use both sides of my brain in a synesthesia manner. Deciphering numbers is fairly easy when recognizing the sequence of number like found in the Fibonacci sequence (which I will elaborate on in the next section titled "Secret Unveiled"). For S&B's number 322, the sequence must be pursued with addition or multiplication (subtraction is not common paganism). Look at the example below and recognize the underlined numbers 3-2-2, and watch how I give two examples of searching out my value for 322 (in any secret numbers a "Value" must be established):

$3+2=5+2=7$ (By adding, there is no significant value or sequence).

$3 \times 2 = 6 \times 2 = 12$ ($6+6=12$) See the hidden value? It's "66."

This means the secret is not found in the number 322, and that's why it's difficult for most people to figure it out. Now let's look at the Skull and the Bones to find the finishing value to this equation. Starting with the skull, most see this as a symbol of death, but there is a hidden number here.

The Human skull resonant frequency under water starts at 600Hz. So my value = 600

The bones are in the shape of an "X." The letter X means nothing of value in Ancient Egypt; but in Greek it holds a value of 600. So my value again = 600

600+66 = 666 (The mark of the Beast)

The skull is not under water in any of their photos, and I doubt that S&B members even know that a human skull resonant frequency is at 600Hz under water. So let's take another look at this number, 322. If we think like a Bonesman, 322 are most likely something of a simple nature, and not of a complex mathematical equation using frequency as "Value." So here's the simplest way of deciphering this number. Instead of 322, let's take three (3) 22's (22-22-22). The 22nd letter of the alphabet is, "V." So 22-22-22 is the same as V-V-V. In Hebrew, the Letter V (vav) is the number 6, meaning that VVV=666. It's as simple as this, and once again 666 is relevant, and the answer to deciphering the number 322. This is the true secret behind 322 (3- 22's). Notice George H.W. Bush circled in red below.

The final secret society that I will expose before tying the "Evil-5" together is the Mafia. The Evil-5 (as I call them) includes The Roman Catholic Church, Freemasons, Skulls & Bones, and the Mafia and the Jewish Brotherhood. In the next few chapters you will see how they all tie in together forming a super allegiance to control the world by exterminating billions of humans in the process. The Jewish Brotherhood didn't rank in my Evil-4, but I will discuss them later in Chapter 8, exposing their control over news media, networks and cinema.

Whenever the Mafia is portrayed in cinema, one would leave a theater with the impression of a bunch of dumb Italians who make millions based on corruption, and eventually lose it all, from the betrayal of inner "Snitches." The word Mafia, is in fact, not a word. It is an Italian acronym meaning (in Italian):

Mazzini
Autorizza
Furti
Incendi
e Avvelenamenti

Giuseppe Mazzini

Translated in English, M.A.F.I.A means, "Mazzini Authorizes Theft, Arson, and Poisoning." Giuseppe Mazzini was no dumb Italian gangster. When he was fourteen, Mazzini attended the University of Genoa where he became a 33rd Degree Freemason. He started off by studying medicine, but later graduated with a Law degree. His interest wasn't in medicine or law, but rather literature. Like his father, Mazzini went on to become a university professor, and later becoming an Italian patriot, philosopher and politician.

As a young man in college, Mazzini led the cause for democratic government in Italy, and joined the underground revolutionaries known as Carbonari. Carbonari's goal in 1818 was as follow:

"Our final aim is that of Voltaire and of the French Revolution— the complete annihilation of Catholicism, and ultimately all Christianity."

By abolishing religion, the Carbonari could unite Italy and move towards a New World Order.

After being exiled to France 1831, Mazzini organized the secret revolutionary society, "Young Italy," devoted to the unification of Italy under republican government. Upon the outbreak of revolution in 1848, he returned to become a member of the triumvirate in the Republic of Rome (1849), but went into exile when papal control of the city was reestablished.

In 1835, with help from Freemason Lord Palmerston (1784-1865), who was twice as Prime Minister of the UK in the mid-19th century, Mazzini founded "Young Europe" in Switzerland. And "Young" societies and groups continued to form in new territories and long after Mazzini's death, and similar thing is obviously happening in the Middle East, Tunisia, Libya, Egypt and Bahrain with no doubt help by the Muslim Brotherhood. In the U.S. they were called "Young America," in England, "Young England" and in Turkey, "Young Turks." In Europe, they were generally called "Young Europe." "Young societies" consisted of radical and riotous youth, many of who were later initiated into Templar Grand Orient Lodges in their respective countries.

The Scottish Rite hierarchy directed their activity, while the Masonic press described them as students expressing their grievances, a bit like we're hearing today. It's alleged Grand Orient Freemasonry taught all "Young Society" members throughout Europe the art of subversion. They were ready when called upon to agitate, demonstrate, instigate worker strikes, hold rallies, or spy, bomb, and assassinate. Also known as "Anarchists and Nihilists," the Young Society was reckless, using dynamite, knives, or guns for the benevolent cause of Grand Orient Freemasonry.

Mazzini replaced Adam Weishaupt as head of the Illuminati in 1834. He created the Mafia, the blood rituals and the secret oath. He gave the dreaded Cosa Nostra the name "Mafia."

The Mafia arrived in America during the 1890's with Illuminati financing to establish underground networks and the black market system. Hollywood movies and the media routinely criticize the Italian Mafia, yet they are not accused of being "Anti-Italian"...but if anyone criticizes the Jewish Mafia, today they are labeled anti-Semitic or a Neo-Nazi.

Mazzini appointed America's Albert Pike as Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry and the coordinator of the Illuminati's U.S. Activities. Pike was a Tennessee Ku Klux Klan (KKK) judicial officer. A known Satanist, Pike indulged in phallic worship and the occult. He wore a satanic Baphomet symbol around his neck and used his bracelet to summon Lucifer. Pike used the KKK to keep blacks out of the Masonic lodges.

In Pike's famous Masonic guide book called "Morals and Dogma," remember, he writes; "Lucifer, light bearer. Strange and mysterious name to give to the spirit of darkness. Lucifer, the son of the morning. Is it he who bears the light? Doubt it not."

The Secret of Masonic Building

It was the fallen angels who taught Nephilims, Rapihims and men, the great secrets of astronomy, higher mathematics, and frequency. Frequency is the central ingredient to what we call, "The seven wonders of the ancient world." If by history something is articulated as a wonder, it is a giant structure built in a form of "Lateral thinking," making it, "A wonder." A wonder also indicates that we are not being taught how something is built, because knowledge is considered power, and this power should only be shared with the secret members and powerful elites of the world (according to secret societies). In third dimensional Earth, if the elite are the only ones privileged to this knowledge, the famous phrase should be changed to, "Knowledge is destructive." It should not be equated with selfish power, but yet, free energy and higher conscious (fifth dimensional thought process...love).

A lateral thinker would look at the Hanging Gardens of Babylon, the Great Pyramids of Egypt, or the Temple of Artemis at Ephesus, and marvel at their grand structures. They would believe that it took thousands of men to quarry and move lime rock weighing thousands of pounds into place creating these massive structures. A non-lateral thinker (thinking outside the box) would study mathematics and decipher the correct frequency to administer into a massive rock that would allow this rock to float, permitting a child to move it effortlessly. This has always been a great secret, but though a secret, it should be common knowledge to us all.

Between 1992 and 2005, I tried to decipher the correct frequency to allow a massive rock to become de-gravitated. My research defined individual magnet force of the North and South Pole as a cosmic force. These cosmic forces are the building blocks of nature's perpetual transformation of matter. It's small enough to pass through anything solid, including a rock or medal. So in order for me to break the laws of gravity, I simply needed to change the polarity of an object. After graduating college, I gave up my 11-year research on gravity and magnetism, and its correlation with frequency. My studies varied, while my hobby and passion was forged in the serenity of physics and geometry.

Two years later, while watching an old documentary show called, "In Search Of," hosted by Leonard Nimoy, I had an epiphany! The Show was titled, "The Castle of Secrets." I had seen this episode as a child and was marveled, but years later I had forgotten about this place. This castle is a great structure that has been compared to ancient Greek temples, Stonehenge, and the Great Pyramids of Egypt. What fascinated me most in this documentary was the fact that Edward Leedskalnin had built this massive rock castle within the past 100 years. More importantly, he was only five-foot tall, weighing 100 pounds.

I quickly boarded a plane with no luggage and flew to Florida for two days to study this amazing castle located in Homestead, Florida. Once I arrived, it took only minutes to decipher enough clues to know what my tour-guide was telling me and showing me, were completely incorrect. She showed me a picture of a tripod with a small box at the top of it, and told me it was the crane used to hoist the large rocks. It's only common sense that a crane must extend higher than the structure being built and this crane wasn't nearly tall enough. It looked like the letter "A," or a shape of a pyramid.

Carved on a wall by Mr. Leedskalnin's bedroom were sets of numbers as seen in the photo below. It read:

I was told that the numbers 7129 represented the petition number on his Certificate of Naturalization, and that the number 6105195 was the actual certificate number. I verified this at the county clerks office and it was true. Weeks later, remembering that Mr. Leedskalnin was a Freemason (which I will discuss later in this chapter); I realized that I needed to try and decipher these numbers regardless of Leedskalnin's Cert of Naturalization, because he could have some how orchestrated this document with the state department to incorporate these particular numbers. There is no such thing as coincidence. There were seven clues in my opinion that needed the most attention, including:

- 1) Scallop shells that laid around an alter
- 2) The crane supposedly used to hoist the massive rocks
- 3) A flywheel used to crank the hoist
- 4) A water fountain centered with the star of David
- 5) Numbers carved into a wall (7129, 6105195)
- 6) A stone carved into a right angle

7) Admission sign (ADM 10¢ Drop Below)

There were several more clues found at the castle, but I noticed that all the other clues were in direct nature of one of my chosen seven. Let's look at these clues in order.

Scallop Shells

The first clue was the scallop shells. Any shells could have been used for this clue, but as you saw in Book-1, the scallop shell represents the birth of Venus, and Venus is Satan in a female form. Therefore, since Freemason's ultimately worship and serve Lucifer, and Leedskalnin was a Freemason, the scallop shells are a good fit for this clue. Let's think of this clue as a metaphor: "Scallop shell(s) in Satanism represent Lucifer, meaning that the altar was set up for the fallen angel who gave Leedskalnin the secret knowledge of frequency." I started my research with Leedskalnin's altar of scallop shells, because this was the easiest clue. The shells for me represented the existence of all things including math, matter and frequency. My theory of shells can be found in a "Golden Rectangle." So though the shells at the altar looked like a scallop shells, representing Satan, it also represented a spiral seashell, called the Fibonacci Spiral. In the diagram to the right, it's labeled A,B,C,D,E,F. The Golden Rectangle portion is labeled A,B,C,D.

$AD/AB = AE/ED$, but $FE = AE$, so $FE/ED = \text{Phi}$. This means, the lines that make up the rectangle that include F,C,D and E, is the area of the Golden Rectangle. We have two similar rectangles and since $\text{Phi} (\phi) = AD/EF$, then $BD/CE = \text{Phi}$ as well.

$$\frac{1+\sqrt{5}}{2} \approx 1.6181033988749894848204586834... \text{ so Phi} = 1.618 (\phi = \text{Our Golden Number})$$

This is how all nature is originated.

Crane

After deciphering the scallop shells as Phi, I needed to understand what this meant in a form of frequency. For this, I remembered the crane standing in the shape of the letter, "A," and researched frequencies based on Fibonacci numbers. Fibonacci numbers are an integer sequence of numbers that are calculated by the sum of the previous two numbers.

0, 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8, 13, 21, 34, 55, 89, 144, 233, 377... and so on...

For Example: 0+1=1 1+1=2 2+1=3 3+2=5 5+3=8... See how the sequence of numbers matches my underlined examples?

In western music, the notes are based on harmonic tones that are created by ratios of frequencies. Ratios found in the first seven numbers of the Fibonacci sequence are as follow:

0, 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8

These seven numbers are related to key frequencies of musical notes. The first number is "0," in which has no value, but the seventh number is "8," and there's great value in this number because this is the heartbeat of Earth. Earth pulsates from 7.82 to 8 cycles per second, and our brain is happy and at peace at 8Hz. We are angry at 10.8Hz, and depressed at 6.6Hz, which I will elaborate on in Book-8. Calculated frequency with regards to Fibonacci relationship starts with A440, which is an arbitrary standard that is accepted by The American Federation of Musicians, as the standard pitch since 1917. The U.S. government in 1920 accepted this standard pitch, and by 1939 it was accepted internationally. This calculated frequency is not natural, but more of a false frequency, because It allows a musician freedom of retuning his or her instrument during the change of each song. When I subtracted the seventh number (8) from 440 ($440-8=432$), Here are two discovered Eureka's:

- 1) The tripod used as Leedskalnin's crane was in fact the letter "A," and it was standing in the shape of a pyramid.
- 2) $8-A_{440} = A_{432}$, meaning $A=432\text{Hz}$, the building sequence of life found hidden in every ancient structure on Earth and Mars and even found in the diameter of the sun and moon equate with this the number 432, including the human heartbeat.

After more than a decade of research, a higher conscious began to finally take over my thought process and also in my dreams. I saw related numbers day and night. I was being taught mathematics by giant men (while I was under a deep trans) who only spoke by way of telepathy. These were exciting times. The numbers 432 are Earth units translated into 51.49cm found at the sea level base of the Great Pyramid of Giza in Egypt. While in Mexico visiting the Toltec complex of Teotihuacan, I noted the overall base is measured at 864 STU (Standard Teotihuacan Units), and $864/2= 432$.

The Giza Pyramid has a height and perimeter in a ratio of 43,200 to the radius and circumference of the Earth. If we calculate the original height of the pyramid (481.3949 feet) and multiply it by 43,200, the quotient is 3938.685 miles. This is the measurement for the actual polar radius of the Earth (pole to center) is 3,949 miles. The perimeter of the pyramid at its base is 3023.16 feet. By multiplying this number by 43,200 you get 24734.94, which is within 170 miles of the equatorial circumference of the Earths 24,902 miles. The error margin is less than one percent.

I researched that a healthy human heart beats at 60 beats per every 60 seconds. When multiplied by 24 hours ($60 \times 60 \times 24 = 86,400$) you get 86,400 beats a day, and by dividing this number by two, you get 43,200.

This number 432 had become my greatest understanding of all that is possible. I even played with Einstein's famous equation of energy and matter ($E=mc^2$). In his equation, E = energy, m = matter, and c = the universal constant speed of light. It's generally accepted that the speed of light is 186,291 miles per second in a vacuum like space. So I tried different equations and found that by typing in 186291 on my calculator and hitting the square root symbol, I got the answer 431.6144112515244, and when rounded up it equals 432. This means that the number 432 would be the square root of the speed of light.

All of this incredible information derived from some crushed seashells that I found laying around some kind of altar at Coral Castle.

- A) The shells represented Phi (1.618) (and sadly, Satan)
- B) The tripod/crane represented a natural tone of "A"
- C) The "A" tone represented the frequency of 432Hz
- D) The frequency represented the construction of the pyramids and giant construction formations around the world

But the work isn't complete. There were several more clues that needed to be deciphered at coral castle in order for me to come up with a conclusion of how Mr. Leedskalnin moved the giant rock structures. I realized that frequency was used to change the polarity of Leedskalnin's massive rock structures.

Flywheel

The flywheel was a pretty basic and obvious clue. Right away you'll notice 24X5 magnets positioned in a 360-degree circumference. There are rivets on an inner ring inside the ring of magnets. Then there's a medal piece inside the rivets that looks like a four leaf clover. Centered to that is a crankshaft.

When looking at this flywheel, I see three rings within each other, centered by a device (the Star of David). The outer ring was the easiest to calculate. There are 24X5 magnets that were around 15 degrees apart from each other. I checked this by multiplying 24-magnets by 15-degrees($24 \times 15 = 360$). I knew the answer should be 360, which made up a perfect circumference in degrees. I also divided 360 degrees by 24 magnets ($360/24 = 15$ degrees).

This gave me an accurate calculation of degrees. I added 15 degrees into its self until I reached 360. See example:

$$\underline{15+15=30+15=45+15=60+15+75+15=90\dots\text{and so on till}\dots360}$$

I drew the outer circle and wrote in the degrees.

The inner ring of the magnets is an easy calculation as well. With the naked eye, I simply counted the rivets and added them to the bolts holding them in place (120 rivets + 8 Bolts= 128). I then added my centerpiece (the Start of David) as "1" (128+1=129). So 129 would be my guesstimated value for the centerpiece, but would also have to be the center number of 24 numbers placed where the rivets are located. I checked my work by going back to the outer ring of magnets and added the total magnets plus the eight bolts (12 magnets + 8bolts = 128). I added this total number to the centerpiece and it was a dead on match (120+8+1=129). I was now convinced that 129 was the value of my centerpiece, but I needed to calculate what numbers to fill in around 129. I figured that 129 could have been a prime number, so I calculated a sequence of prime numbers to verify, but I was incorrect. It wasn't a prime number. A prime number is a whole number with exactly two integral divisors, 1 and itself. For example:

$$2, 3, 5, 7, 11, 13, 17, 19, 23, 29, 31, 37, 41, 43, 47, 53, 59, 61\dots$$

Like the Fibonacci sequence, 129 belong to a sequence, so I then formulated a sequence of prime sums to possibly locate the number 129, as follow:

$$2+3=\underline{5} \quad 2+3+5=\underline{10} \quad 10+7=\underline{17} \quad 17+11=\underline{28} \quad 28+13=\underline{41} \quad 41+17=\underline{58} \quad 58+19=\underline{77} \quad 77+23=\underline{100}$$

$$100+29=\underline{129} \quad 129+31=\underline{160} \quad 160+37=\underline{197} \quad 197+41=\underline{238} \quad \dots$$

There it was, 100+29=129. Not only did I locate the 129, I had also discovered the proper sequence to add into the inner ring. It would include:

$$2, 3, 10, 17, 28, 41, 58, 77, 100, 129, 160, 197, 238, 328, 381, 440\dots \text{ and so on until the inner ring completed the circumference at } 963.$$

The third area within the second ring has no rivets or magnets. It's shaped like a four leaf clover with smooth edges and four bolts. The four bolts for me, represents four consecutive numbers that would possibly equal the sum of my center value. I only found three consecutive numbers that equaled 129 (42+43+44= 129). The number 43 is a prime number, but 42 and 44 are not. I needed more clues to figure out what numbers the four bolts represented.

The clover shape is interesting because it seems to hold no merit. One should wonder why Leedskalnin would go through the trouble of creating this shape opposed to simply creating a third ring inside the second ring. To understand this shape, is to know the true frequency that would cause an, "Acoustic levitation." Sound (under certain frequencies), and current comes in a form of several shapes.

While working on my MBA, one of my professors conducted a visual test with our class. He told us that in all of his years of teaching, no one student had found a "Star" located in a visual puzzle within the ten minute time period. He then placed a two-color (red and black) puzzle slide on the overhead projector. Within five seconds I found the star. He made me turn around for 10 minutes facing away from the projection to give the class time to find the star. After ten minutes, and After ten minutes, and no success of seeing the star by my classmates, I walked up to the projection and showed the class the area of the star. My professor was astounded. He asked how I did it. I told him, "I simply saw it." I later agreed to take several other similar tests and quickly passed them with virtually no effort. I realized that my brain was working in synesthesia manner. Synesthesia is a union of senses. It allows me to see shapes in my mind when I hear sounds of certain octaves. When I saw the four-leaf clover shape in Leedskalnin's design, I could hear an octave in my head that is directly related to the shape of a four-leaf clover. The same applies to current.

Hexagram/Star of David

Walking over to a fountain of water, I noticed the water was centered with a small-carved stone in the shape of a hexagram. This is where I got the idea to use the Star of David as my crankshaft. They were both centered in the center of a circular object. Once again, the hexagram is associated with witchcraft or druidism (and this comes from the sick mind of a 33rd degree or Luciferian Freemason), but it also had the look of a perfect crankshaft as it was positioned.

Numbers Carved on the Wall

The numbers carved on a wall are written as 7129, and 6105195. I quickly recognized the number 129 which I calculated as my center value. Then I noticed two other sets of numbers that were located in my first ring of degrees (105 and 195). I pulled these numbers apart like this:

$$7, \quad 129$$

$$6, \quad 105, \quad 195$$

I multiplied 7 and 6 by 24 because there were 24 sets of magnets in Mr. Leedskalnin's flywheel (7X24=168 6X24=144).

A) 168 = the SUM of four consecutive prime numbers

(37+41+43+47=168) These four numbers were the numbers that I was missing on the four-leaf clover.

B) 144 is a Gematrian number with an alpha meaning of Light. This number was used in the construction of the Great Pyramid of Giza and it defines Phi. It's not a prime number but when you align it with the center of prime quadruplets in a prime sequence position, you will find the numbers 144 and 288. These two numbers are centered by, 825 and 1875. By dividing these numbers (1875/825=2.272), you get an answer that is the square root of Phi. 144 ultimately create a right angle.

Right Angle

By centering my hexagram (129) with the degrees of 105 and 195, I noticed that it created a perfect 90-degree angle.

Admission Sign

On the admission sign we see the words, "Drop Below." Under the flywheel is an area to drop coil from.

Conclusion

Coils are, and can be tuned to the reverse flow of vortex energy generated between two sides. The coils would need to be tuned to the South Pole vortex. A larger stone will levitate by simply striking it with a rod connected to the coils, which is tuned to the South Pole field. The levitation would occur because two south poles repel each other.

I'm positive that the black box on top the tripod was some sort of tuning box that was set to a Phi frequency creating an acoustic levitation within the castle surroundings.

The whole overtone series is a series of golden ratios. If you divide an octave by a perfect fifth, (13/20), you get the golden ratio. If you divide a perfect fifth by an octave, (8/13), you get the golden ratio. If you divide a perfect fourth by a major sixth, (6/10), you get the golden ratio. And if you divide a major third by a perfect fifth, (5/8), you get the golden ratio. The overtone series is a natural order of notes that is played by horn instruments and found in other instances, in music, meaning that Leedskalnin used frequency to move the massive rocks, effortlessly as the fallen angels taught men, thousands of years ago. A crane moved not one of the massive rocks.

NOTE: Nikola Tesla stated: "If you only knew the magnificence of the 3, 6 and 9, then you would have a key to the universe." Part of his secret is on this page. Look above at the degrees on the diagram. Add each degree and you will find a sum of 3,6,or 9. Secondly, add up most frequency numbers, and it's sum will = 3, 6, & 9.

The Secrets of Scientology

As an ex-Scientology member, I can define this faith as simply one of the most dangerous occult in the world today. It's rooted in Satanism with a bizarre twist. In Satanism, one will join to worship Satan and take part in occult rituals that are completely detestable, as in the case of high-ranking members of Catholicism, Mormonism, Muslim and the Jewish faith. In Book-8, you will learn about the secrets of MK-ULTRA. It's a brainwashing, torture created by the military with the help of Walt Disney, back in the late 20's and early 30's, to create assassins, sex slaves, and messengers. Marilyn Monroe was an asset for the defense department under MK-ULTRA, and the military used her fame to blackmail several men in power (her true story and the man you killed her will be fully exposed in Book-8).

With that, Scientology is setup in the same manner. Candidates who join have no idea that they are being manipulated into creating several altars within their brain, which causes them to possibly become a future asset, sex slaves, messengers or possible assassins depending on how high they can afford to climb the ladder of secret knowledge.

In Scientology, there is a ladder of sorts called "The Bridge to Total Freedom," which one can climb by taking expensive courses. The Bridge is split up into two parts that include, Dianetics, and the OT (operating thetan) levels. In Dianetics, one is taught that they have a subconscious "Reactive mind," which absorbs painful experiences and anything said or seen during those experiences. This affects ones behavior, mental state, and physical well-being just as in MK-Ultra.

The goal of Dianetics is to reach the state of "Clear." When a person becomes clear, all engrams (a word made up by L. Ron Hubbard to describe the aforementioned negative "Memories") have been removed from one's mind. In a "Clear" state, one is expected to have a perfect memory; an extraordinary I.Q. level, and physically invulnerable as far as health is concerned. In order to reach the state of clear, one must undergo a form of hypnosis or altered state of conscious. The subject is asked to answer questions about their life. The answers of these sometimes probing interviews are written down and can be as blackmail if the subject should ever express a desire to leave Scientology.

I joined having the knowledge of MK-Ultra and methods of Satanism, in a different country under an alias provided to me by a cooperating member of the Catholic Church. In short a high-ranking Satanist referred me.

Having reached the state of clear, a Scientologist will go to a "Scientology org" (short for organization and meaning a building where auditors and Scientology officials work). These particular orgs are located in Clearwater, Florida, Los Angeles, California or another city of relevance. An average Scientology org, can't give the necessary courses to move up the OT levels. L. Ron Hubbard coined the word "Thetan," as the Scientology word for "Spirit," or "Soul." According to Hubbard, an operating thetan has almost god-like powers (forms of Satanism, Sumerian, Babylonian and Cabbalism teaching).

At the level known as OT III, a scientologist learns the ultimate secret of life on Earth. According to Scientology, seventy-five million years ago, Earth was known as, "Teegeeeack" and it was part of the Galactic Confederation. The Galactic Confederation was ruled over by Lord Xenu, who had been appointed by the Loyal Officers.

Lord Xenu had a problem, however, on average his planets had 178 billion aliens each. In order to deal with such a massive overpopulation problem, Xenu had many of his subjects gathered together. One of the ways of executing a gather was to summons them for a tax inspection and then have them killed. As they were killed, the aliens were covered with a mix of alcohol and glycol, which trapped their thetans inside the dead bodies. The aliens were then frozen, packed into little boxes, and flown to Earth in spaceships that looked exactly like DC8s with rocket engines.

Once on Earth, the aliens were laid at the bases of volcanoes, which then had H-bombs, dropped on them. However, because Xenu didn't want the alien souls to come back to their planets and reincarnate, which cause the overpopulation problem to pop right back up, he created a giant electronic ribbon in the sky, which trapped the thetans. Then, the aliens were brought to a theatre where they watched motion pictures for thirty-six days that brainwashed them into believing in a false reality and in God and Satan.

NOTE: The Defense Department paid Walt Disney $280,000 for three cartoons that they used to brainwash victims that included, Fantasia and Alice in Wonderland. The victims were administered LSD with their eyes taped open as torture, which you will see in Book-8. Disney joined in on the torture.

Today, we are covered with these thetans who cluster together. After watching the same brainwashing materials they think they are all the same entity. These thetans, known as body thetans, inhibit the abilities and capacities of our souls, causing us to be depressed, diseased, and mortal. The only way to rid us of our body thetans is to telepathically tell them to (in the words of Gollum)"Go away."

As for Xenu, he was overthrown by the Loyal Officers and locked away in a little cave, which he is kept in with a force field powered by an eternal battery. He is still alive today. The Loyal Officers are also still around except that instead of still being aliens, they have all been reincarnated as the Sea Org, Scientology's private army, which is "The only organization dedicated to the clearing of planet Earth," which was Hubbard's way of communicating world domination. The Sea Org motto is, "We come back," in reference to their failure to their failure to originally stop Xenu, and their determination to redeem themselves through the spread of Scientology.

According to CNN, only ten percent of Scientologists have reached OT III. It cost over a million dollars to reach this platform. Once OT III is complete, there's no turning back. You will be exterminated if you try and exit Scientology because of the vast secret knowledge given by this stage. At the level of OT III, one may be privileged to visit the bowels of Dulce Airport, Denver Airport or a number of military and civilian airports that house millions of aliens here beneath Earth's surface. Media keeps us looking up to the stars so that we don't become curious of what is housed beneath us.

NOTE: In Book-9, I will disclose several secret locations of alien/human habitats. I will expose the treaty signed by President Eisenhower with the alien race, and I will expose several of the alien species we share Earth with. I will explain the secrets of Antarctica, and I will expose a secret war that killed thousands of American soldiers (in 1947), in less than 20 minutes, by an alien race that was provoked by a fleet of American ships. There's a lot of fluff and fantasy in the mind of Hubbard, but the aliens do exist and they are here, and have been before America was even discovered. They are non-hostile, but will protect themselves in an attack. Today, the "Alien Agenda" is made up of global governments who cohabit with them in accord with advanced technology and wormhole knowledge. Book-9 will expose the planned alien attack that will be a greater illusion than 9/11. Hubbard was a Satanist, and was aware of these secrets, and used them like every other Satanist who started religion, as illustrated in Book-1.

The Secrets of L. Ron Hubbard

If one studies the likeness of L. Ron Hubbard, he or she would be studying the likeness of Satanist, Aleister Crowley, for it was Crowley's "Church of Satanism" that birthed Hubbard's ideology for creating Scientology. Hubbard was clearly connected to the Crowley's occult.

Even in the first publication of Dianetics in the "Astounding Science Fiction," series, Hubbard explained that he conducted his research by observing mind function. He said he used "Automatic writing, speaking and clairvoyance" to discover what the mind's memory banks was doing. Automatic writing is an occult method of communicating with the spirit world, although psychologists consider its products to arise from subconscious thoughts of the writer. Whichever is correct, it is hardly a method used by competent scientific researchers.

There are incredible similarities between Crowley's writings and the teachings of Hubbard. Dianetics' Time Track, in which every incident in a person's life is chronologically recorded in full in the mind, mirrors Crowley's Magical Memory. The Magical Memory is developed over time until "Memories of childhood reawaken," which were previously forgotten, and memories of previous incarnations are recalled as well. Hubbard gives examples in the Philadelphia Doctorate Course of several people remembering their lives earlier here on earth, with some memories up to a million years ago. The similarity between the Magical Memory and Time Track, then, is that they both can recall every past incident in a person's life, they both can

Aleister Crowley

Crowley's Statement:

"Having allowed the mind to return for some hundred times to the hour of birth, it should be encouraged to endeavor to penetrate beyond that period."

Hubbard's Statement:

"After twenty runs through birth, the patient experienced a recession of all somatics and 'Unconsciousness' and aberrative content. Thus there was no inhibition about looking earlier than birth for what Dianetics had begun to call basic-basic."

Both Hubbard and Crowley are affirming anti-psychiatry.

L. Ron Hubbard

Crowley states: "The way to learn to leave your body is to mock up a body like your own in front of your physical body. Eventually you will learn to leave your physical body with your 'Astral body,' and travel and view at will without physical restrictions." Hubbard teaches the same, and his method of 'Exteriorization' is to tell the person to "Have 'Preclear' mock up own body, which will send the person outside his body."

Both Crowley and Hubbard use an equilateral triangle pointing up in a circle as one of their group's symbols. Both use Volume 0 instead of Volume 1 to begin enumerating their works. One could go on for quite some time listing the similarities between Crowley's and Hubbard's theories and writings.

In Crowley's Organization, there are several grade levels. To reach the Grade of Adeptus Exemptus, "The Adept must prepare and publish a thesis setting forth his knowledge of the Universe, and his proposals for its welfare and progress. He will then be known as the leader of a school of thought." It is apparent that Hubbard has fulfilled this requirement. The methods of Scientology are plagiarized from the Church of Satanism, making Aleister Crowley the true founder of Scientology. One would have to study Satanism to unlock and compare the secrets of Scientology.

Scientology Assets & Sex Slavery

From military MK-ULTRA, to Satanism, and Scientology, severe brainwashing through soft and hard methods of torture, create altars in the brain that dismisses pain, tuning the victim into a perfect asset.

Ex-member Horrific Account

Reported By Sarah Collerton:

A former Scientologist who says she was a "Child slave" and alleges she saw a six-year-old boy chained up in a ship's hold is disappointed the Senate has blocked a full inquiry into the religious organization.

Independent Senator Nick Xenophon has been calling for a full inquiry into the church since revealing claims of forced abortions and other abuses in Parliament last year.

Keryn, 54, grew up in the church and has asked the ABC to identify her only by her first name.

She says she was a victim of “Hard labor, mental brutality and separation” on Scientology ships, which were used for the Church’s elite band of followers in the 1960’s to 1970’s. She is angry the motion for a Scientology probe has been blocked in Parliament.

“Australia is an egalitarian society; Scientology is not egalitarian,” she told ABC News Online.

“There is no protection for workers and no protection for children. It’s the push for the inquiry that has brought me out of the woodwork.”

Keryn says her mother was a founding member of the church and went on to become the CEO of Scientology in South Africa.

“It should be banned; it’s a very dangerous pseudo-religion and corporate enterprise, and it really needs to be looked at very closely,” she said.

“If it’s not looked at very closely and monitored and checks and balances put in place, then one day people are going to look back and say, ‘This is bad news and we did nothing.’”

“The structure is very totalitarian, and I just think it’s very bad for mental health. They need to look into the separation of families. I know many broken families because of Scientology.”

Keryn wants an inquiry to investigate living and labor conditions as well as schooling for children working for the organization at a young age.

“There is a belief in Scientology that normal schooling simply indoctrinates you with social norms and ideologies ... so they prefer to indoctrinate with their own ideologies, with the result that Scientology children, if they manage to leave, are usually unskilled and uneducated.”

“This forces them back into the world they know - in other words Scientology recreates its own labor force,” she said.

“People just get so brainwashed and it’s made so difficult for people to leave, they just don’t. Staff members don’t get paid so they can’t accumulate money to leave.

“There’s a belief system that if you find something wrong with Scientology, then there’s something wrong with you. That’s instilled in you so deeply that it’s very hard to shake.”

‘Nightmare’ Childhood

Keryn’s decision to speak openly about her experiences comes after ABC1’s Four Corners program, The Ex-Files, in which former members told of forced abortions, pressure to work extreme hours and being forced to hand over large sums of money.

Members of Scientology’s elite unit of full-time staffers the Sea Organization - or Sea Org - detailed allegations of a strict regime of discipline and punishment in place during the 1960’s.

Scientology has denied the claims, but Keryn says she can back up the allegations.

She says she signed a billion-year contract as a 12-year-old, lived on the Scientology vessels The Royal Scotman and The Athena, and was in effect a "Child slave."

"When we were on the ship, we had people working 20 hours a day, seven days a week," she said.

"It was a nightmare for me and my brother. For most of our lives, we were separated from our mother because she was in the Sea Org.

"A lot of the children hadn't seen their parents for months, and their parents were on the same ship."

She says what she saw happen to one child, a six-year-old boy named Larry, still haunts her today.

"I've carried him with me all my life and I want to put it on record what I saw," she said.

While working on one of the Sea Org boats, which was a former cattle ship, Keryn heard a clinking sound and found the boy in the hold.

"Larry was chained by his leg and he was there for a few days. He was fed, but he was chained," she said.

She says she was forced to "Disconnect" from her father, who did not want to be part of the church.

"They say they don't break up families but they most definitely do," she said.

"[On Four Corners, Scientologist Tommy Davis] claimed they have no disconnection policy – that's an outright lie, unless they've changed that. I was told to disconnect from my father, that he would suppress us. I was told to write a letter to him when I was six to disconnect from him."

L. Ron Hubbard

Originally the prospect of "Sailing the high seas, having adventures and not going to school anymore" was exciting to Keryn, but she soon realized the reality of life in the Sea Org. She says it was "Worse than jail."

"My brother was allocated a job in the engine room of the shift as a greaser - he was 10 ... I was working in the canteen and we were both working 20-hour shifts," she said.

"I didn't see him for weeks and then one day I bumped into him in the doorways between the dormitories, and he was this little thing, covered in grease with these big red eyes, and he saw me and he started crying and he said he wanted to go home."

"At that stage, you could petition the commodore, who was L. Ron Hubbard, who was living on the ship up in his luxury apartment. I petitioned him and he went home straightaway, but you had to have a replacement for him, so I took my brother's place in the engine room."

While Keryn was not aware of any forced abortions, she says she remembers cruel punishments such as people being locked in dark hatches and at other times being forced to do hard labor at "Double time."

"One of the punishments they had was throwing you overboard, which happened to my mother on a regular basis," she said.

Those thrown overboard were rescued.

Keryn also knew Hubbard, and recalls seeing him around the ship in a "White sailor suit."

"He was a very powerful, enigmatic figure," she said.

"As an individual, he had a very powerful force about him and I could see people would quiver in his presence, he had immense self-belief. In the flesh, he didn't wander around like some demented, nutty professor."

Tracking Her Down

Keryn, who moved from South Africa to Australia in 1989, worked on the ships until she was 13, when she was "Rescued" by her grandmother.

For years, she has kept the torment to herself and only occasionally spoken about it to her brother, who is still bitter and angry about their upbringing.

She did not want to speak publicly out of fear and "Conflicted loyalty" to her mother, who stayed a devout Scientologist until she died.

Keryn was left frightened after Scientologists tracked her down on Facebook and called her, 42 years after she left the organization.

"I thought it was well and truly behind me," she said.

She also says they have been harassing her brother, who still lives in South Africa, calling him day and night.

Big Business

Keryn says over the years Scientology has changed from the more idealistic early days.

"They've really refined their acts and become very slick at marketing and promotions and corporate management," she said.

"They're still doing what they've always done, but they've just morphed into something slicker so they're much more dangerous than they were before.

"I'm really nervous about where it's going – it's just infiltrated so many educational programs, management programs."

What makes Keryn very angry is the celebrity following.

"When I hear John Travolta and Tom Cruise come out and say 'This is the way,' I think, have you actually ever been behind the scenes of the Celebrity Centre to see how they live? They don't," she said.

"The hard work is done by staff members. The people that have money do what people with money always do. They just throw money at stuff and people are nice to them. And Scientology has always courted celebrities because that is their legitimization and it's working.

"If there's one thing I can say though, because Tom Cruise jumped on that stupid couch, that actually started the ridicule, and the ridicule has grown bigger and bigger and started to undermine Scientology's image."

Outraged former members say that conditions are anything but fraternal and have painted Sea Org, which stands for Sea Organization, a reference to the church's early days sailing the globe on ships, as slavery by another name.

Some 800 of the 6,000 Sea Org members are at Gold Base at any given time, but all of them can expect to spend some of their toughest years in the church there. Formerly, the church bought Gold Base in 1978. It's a resort popular with the Hollywood industry and known by the unfortunate title of "Massacre Canyon" after an old Indian tribal battle. It has since spent at least $50 million redeveloping it. The Gold Base compound has razor-tipped fences, motion sensors and what appears to be a heavily camouflaged sniper-style nest bunker that over looks the entire property as seen here.

Here are several more statements from sex slaves, molested children and other victims who were part of the Sea org. Scientology's attempted cover-up, included there (Scientology) policy stating that scientologists who are "Upstat" - those doing very well, and/or making a lot of money for Scientology, should never be punished, while those who are "Downstat" should be investigated. Gabriel Scott Williams reportedly was such an "Upstat" person who was making lots of money for Scientology and so a victim by the name of Jennifer was to be "Stopped" in her complaint filing against the gruesome sexual and psychological abuse of Gabe Williams.

Source: HCOPL 1 September 1965, "Ethics Protection":

"In short a staff member can get away with murder so long as his statistic is up and can't sneeze without a chop if it's down. When people do start reporting a staff member with a high statistic, what you investigate is the person who turned in the report."

Child rapist Gabriel Williams

Scientology Sex Assault Nightmare

New York Post, 2 October 2005:

"A former Scientology staffer is breaking her silence about being sexually assaulted 100 times at ages 16 and 17 by the church supervisor [Gabriel Williams] she was "Ordered" to live with, and then receiving threats and intimidating phone calls when she reported the abuse. In a related civil suit brought by Stewart against Williams and the church, she recently received as part of the settlement a "Generous monetary resolution," said her attorney. Although the church admitted no wrongdoing, it forked over about $700,000, sources say." Gabriel Scott Williams' now has a California Registered Sex Offender Profile on display. He was convicted of sexual battery and sodomy.

Donald Anthony Strawn

State of Florida v. Donald Anthony Strawn

"A Scientologist by the name of Donald Anthony Strawn, also known as Tony Strawn, was convicted in 1995 to thirty years in prison for sexually molesting two girls, ages 11 and 13. The children were in his custodial care at the time. Scientology directed (under threat of expulsion) that the mother not report the incident to the proper authorities, because the church could 'Handle' his 'Aberration.'" Tony Strawn is currently incarcerated by the Department of Corrections, FL.

Letter of Yolanda Howell to Dennis Erlich (auf Deutsch)

"One little baby I knew in the Sea Org got herpes during a Cadet Org epidemic. A 14-year-old girl disclosed to me how she and a few other little girls were leaving the Cadet Org in the daytime and performing sexual services for one of the girl's uncles in exchange for money. A man who worked in the Cadet Org admitted he was sexually molesting the children. Although these incidents were written up, as far as I know they were never "Handled."

NOTE: Sea Org = Scientology members who signed a billion year contract. Cadet Org = program for children so their Sea Org parents can get on with their business within the organization.

Low Priority for Child Welfare, By Adeline Dodd-Bova:

"These were the children of dedicated Scientologists. Students' files revealed previous teachers' statements of incidents of physical and sexual abuse. All of these cases were reported to the principal. The reports were

'Handled' by Scientology alone. Teachers dared not report these crimes on their own outside the school for fear of losing their jobs.

The Mace Kingsley Ranch, By Astra Woodcraft:

"I was 13 years old. I think I was 13. Everyone had beer and got drunk. I think the first night or the second night I was up there, I was sitting next to him and I had had a few beers and so had he. And so had everyone else. And he put his hand down my shirt and down my bra and started feeling me. And I...it really scared me and I asked my friend later, I said, 'What's Wally [Hanks] doing? Why did he do this?' And she said, 'Oh. Don't worry. He just does that with the girls. That's just what he does but don't worry about it.'"

Ex-scientologists Jane Scott writes to John Ashcroft:

"What we did not know about when we took our son to Mace-Kingsley was that Wally Hanks was a pedophile who was engaged in illegal relations with at least one, or perhaps several, of the girls in his charge. One weekend when his younger brother and I went up see Jesse the Ranch it was in obvious turmoil and there appeared to be several new adults around. Jesse swore us to secrecy and then explained that one of the girls and her boyfriend had run away because she "Freaked-out" about Wally's sexually molesting her and her not wanting it to go on anymore.

Former Mace-Kingsley staffer, Wally Hanks started his own school for troubled Scientologist kids, called "The Hanks Ranch." In April 2004 a former student told of the time there in Little Ranch of Horrors II:

"Wally beat the shit out of me once for running his horse too hard. We had another whacked out Vietnam vet who was clearly psychotic stay there for a few months, living in a tent out in the back of the property. On a camping/hunting trip to the Indian mines he completely lost his mind, took all his clothes off, grabbed a couple guns and took off into the desert. We found him a couple days later. Kids torturing animals, older kids making younger kids perform homosexual acts, on them. I'm sure there is tons more, but I'd have to sit and think about it."

Life aboard Scientology's ship 'The Apollo' in 1968 Posting of Steve Manning 8 Mar 2000:

"Working twelve-hour days for little or no money. Sleeping in over crowded dormitories with strange adults led to sexual abuse. And all this in the good name of Scientology. If any of you sick fucks who are in the business today can explain why this happened to me, especially while 'God' himself was on board, I'll be happy to know."

NOTE-1: Scientology asked for exemption of sexual exploitation legislation in Texas that would forbid counselors to have sex with their patients. This strategy was executed because Scientology feared past and present sexual abuse victims would sue them.

NOTE-2: The Scientology ship was called, "The Apollo." Satanist and higher members of secret societies, know the true origins of the name Apollo. "They have as king over them, the angel of the abyss; his name in Hebrew is Abaddon [destruction], and in the Greek he has the name Apollyon [destroyer] (Revelation 9:11). The Bible is speaking of multiple names of Satan. Apollyon was re-written as "Apollo" (dropping the Y.O.N. at the end). So whenever you see the name Apollo, you'll now know it's another name for Satan.

So as you can see from the long extended timeline, Scientology is administering the torturous art of MK-ULTRA (mind control) on children and parents in order to create both sex slave, and labor slaves out of children, who would then grow up fully brainwashed, creating a perpetual state of pedophile acts.

The Satanic Roots of Scientology

In Hubbard's 1952 Philadelphia Doctorate Course Lectures, he states:

"The magical cults of the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th centuries in the Middle East were fascinating. The only modern work that has anything to do with them is a trifle wild in spots, but is a fascinating work in itself, and that's the work of Aleister Crowley - the late Aleister Crowley - my very good friend.... He signs himself 'The Beast,' mark of the Beast 666..."

In late 1958, Hubbard confessed where he got his OT information:

"But mysticism/occultism isn't our source. Our source, actually, is magic. Magic is something that, today, is performed on a stage with prestidigitation. But magic actually has a much more vivid and noble history than a stage magician. It is quite remarkable that the magician attempts directly to use spirits to perform his will. And that is his basic modus operandi. That is his goal in practicing magic." This quote is from a Lecture given on 29 January 29th, 1958, titled, "The History of Clearing by L. Ron Hubbard."

In the OT materials, Hubbard claims that he came to fulfill the prophecy of the Anti-Christ. Wow! It won't come as a big shock to anyone who has researched Hubbard's life. Many of us already know about the time he was involved in the Babylon Workings. In case you haven't heard about it:

Hubbard was clearly involved in the occult. In 1945, L. Ron Hubbard met Jack Parsons, who was a renowned scientist, protégée of occultist Aleister Crowley, and a member of the notorious Ordo Templi Orientis (O.T.O.), an international organization founded by Crowley to practice sexual black magic.

Parsons had Hubbard move onto the property of Parsons' Pasadena, California, home. It was there that Hubbard began to practice the occult and sexual magic. Parsons' mistress, Sara Northrup, left him for Hubbard and later became Hubbard's second wife, even before Hubbard had divorced his first wife (The Los Angeles Times, June 24, 1990, page A37).

Biographer Russell Miller wrote:

"Parsons considered that Ron had great magical potential and took the risk of breaking his solemn oath of secrecy to acquaint Ron with some of the O.T.O. rituals.... Parsons wrote to his 'Most Beloved Father' (his term for Aleister Crowley) to acquaint him with events: 'About three months ago I met Captain L. Ron Hubbard.... Although he has no formal training in Magick, he has an extraordinary amount of experience and understanding in the field. From some of his experiences I deduced that he is in direct touch with some higher intelligence, possibly his Guardian Angel. He describes his Angel as a beautiful winged woman with red hair whom he calls the Empress, and who has guided him through his life and saved him many times. He is the most Thelemic [self-willed, independent] person I have ever met and is in complete accord with our own principles.'"

-Russell Miller, Bare-Faced Messiah: the True Story of L. Ron Hubbard, 1987, page. 117-118.

NOTE: Parsons wanted to attempt an experiment in black magic that would push back the frontiers of the occult world. With the assistance of his new friend, he intended to try and create a 'Moonchild' - the magical child 'Mightier than all the kings of the earth,' whose birth had been prophesied in The Book of the Law more than forty years earlier.

Former high-ranking Scientologists Bent Corydon and Hubbard's son, L. Ron Hubbard Jr., wrote:

"In order to obtain a woman prepared to bear this magical child, Parsons and Hubbard engaged themselves for eleven days of rituals ¼ on January 18th, Parsons found the girl who was prepared to become the mother of Babylon, and to go through the required incantation rituals. During these rituals, which took place on the first three days of March 1946, Parsons was High Priest and had sexual intercourse with the girl, while Hubbard who was present acted as skryer, seer, or clairvoyant and described what was supposed to be happening on the astral plane."

-Bent Corydon & L. Ron Hubbard, Jr., L. Ron Hubbard: Messiah or Madman? 1987, (pages 256-257).

Hubbard's oldest son, L. Ron Hubbard Jr., said in the 1983 Penthouse interview:

"There was no other religion in the house! Scientology and black magic. What a lot of people don't realize is that Scientology is black magic that is just spread out over a long time period. To perform black magic generally takes a few hours or, at most, a few weeks. But in Scientology it's stretched out over a lifetime, and so you don't see it. Black magic is the inner core of Scientology --and it is probably the only part of Scientology that really works. Also, you've got to realize that my father did not worship Satan. He thought he was Satan. He was one with Satan. He had a direct pipeline of communication and power with him. My father wouldn't have worshiped anything. I mean, when you think you're the most powerful being in the universe, you have no respect for anything, let alone worship."

Hubbard Jr. says in a taped lecture in 1984:

"As an interesting sidelight, the same individual that transmitted the various Magick tech to Adolf Hitler as a young man also transmitted them to Dad. And like Dad, Hitler, when he came to power, promptly had his teachers and the occult field in general wiped out. This might answer for you in some small way the similarities of the Sea Org and the Guardian's Office to the S.S. and Gestapo. Remember the old revolutionary rule, which states one has to, the moment one comes to power, suppress those very things that achieved the power. You must not allow the populace or anyone else to do the things you did to get you there. Which is one of the reasons there has been a great vocal suppression of hypnosis, because that is an entrance point to the Magick which my father used a great deal of, clear up through the fifties and clear up to the point he died."

"Truth in itself is its own power source. 'Truth IS.' Any 'Is-ness,' doesn't need exterior power, it is self-powered. It just kind of sits there and glows a little bit and it will do it forever because it has done it forever. But to maintain a lie, a falsehood, a fiction, one needs to really pump the juice into it and keep pumping. The more you pump the more it needs. And the more it needs the more it needs and the more it demands until it finally just implodes. And implodes right on Dad's head. And this is precisely what happened. Dad always felt that he was above any law and felt he had to take the shortcut. He was in a hurry and so therefore he was not a respecter of persons, minds or people (people defined as thetans). The Magick tech itself has quite a number of very basic rules and regulations that demand to be met or what happens to you is what happened to L. Ron Hubbard. Crash! Again he did not practice what he preached and did not follow a gradient and he paid for it.

He was a Master Adept of the Mysteries, but he broke the rules.

He first became involved in the Magick at the age of sixteen, when he read Aleister Crowley's book, The Book of the Law. And because of that Book of the Law, he also started his heavy drug usage trail which led to heavier and heavier use of drugs on himself and of course others in order to reach his goals - to be the most powerful being in the universe. If L. Ron Hubbard had a great deal of knowledge and very little wisdom, then Aleister Crowley did too. The difference between the two men was that Aleister Crowley had very little motivation. Aleister felt rather contented to just quietly be the Beast 666 instead of implementing the Magick for personal gain. This lack of drive and ambition, I think, pushed Dad onward, because to him the only reason and purpose for power was the exercising and the using of it.

When Aleister Crowley died in 1947, that's when Dad decided he would take over the mantle of the Beast and that is the seed and the beginning of Dianetics and Scientology. The Magick tech transcends Scientology tech, but there again, Dad felt that he was above any and all law. Well, one can't be above the Magick laws or one is going to find himself in oblivion, and that's exactly what happened. It's extremely foolish for man or beast to think they can contain an exploding hydrogen bomb in their hip pocket."

Scientology's mistreatment of children has been going on inside L. Ron Hubbard's abusive Sea- Organization for decades. By design (per LRH) it's policy that leads to false beliefs, indoctrinating parents who rarely spend much time with their kids and live separately willingly deny the act of pedophilia/child molestation and sex trafficking. These parents "Then lie," to cover up the mistreatment of their very own children. Sex abuse, child labor slavery, and child sex slavery is common knowledge amongst high-ranking Scientology members. In 2013 both the F.B.I. and Homeland Security are continuing their investigation on Scientology.

Here's Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes' little daughter, Suri Cruise. She's in grade school but already walking in high-heels. Several former members and the public alike are concerned for her safety. in the photo below, is Sarah Palin's daughter being held up by her dad for balance, on Good Morning America. This is an offset of "Kitten Programming." Psychologically these girls are being manipulated and prepared to become a future sex slave, assets. Several actresses are currently sex slaves under the MK-ULTRA Military Based Programming, and society is completely unaware that this exists. Though Katie Holmes might not be aware of it, Tom Cruise is the highest ranking member of Scientology, so he would be very aware of it because this type of programming is expected in their occult as you read previously, regarding "The Apollo."

When the Katie Holmes filed for divorce from Cruise, June 28th, 2012, she acted aggressively in moving for sole legal custody of her daughter Suri. Sources say it was the culmination of a yearlong attempt to break free of a confining, Scientology-influenced marriage to Tom Cruise.

“Every move she made and everything she did was controlled . . . She felt like she was in Rosemary’s Baby,” says one insider, referring to the classic 1968 horror film, in which an aspiring young actress (Mia Farrow) unwittingly bears a child for her husband’s Satanic cult.

Indeed, her shocking divorce filing, which has blindsided a “Furious” Cruise, wasn’t simply about her own personal contentment, a Holmes source says. “This is about protecting her daughter,” the insider explains to Us Weekly. “She wants to be in charge of how Suri is being raised and didn’t want her to have an exclusively Scientology education.” The first source puts it more bluntly: “She felt she had to get out to save her daughter.”

Scientology Belief System

Beyond the controversy, there is a system of beliefs that are dictated to Scientologist members. It’s a false system originally created through the ideology of Satanism (Aleister Crowley), and is worshipped as non-forbidden fruit, by members. Scientology core belief’s are as follow:

- Belief in Deity

Scientology considers the belief in a god or gods as something personal and therefore offers no specific dogma. The nature of the Supreme Being is revealed personally through each individual as she/he becomes more conscious and spiritually aware. There exists a life energy or force (Theta) beyond and within all.

- Incarnations

There are no particular human incarnations of god, as the universal life force (Theta) is inherent in all. All humans are immortal spiritual beings (Thetans) capable of realizing a nearly godlike state through Scientology practices.

- Origin of Universe and Life

All is manifestation of the universal spirit, which is all that actually exists.

- After Death

Rebirths continue until one consciously confronts all pre-birth, current-life, and previous-life traumas and realizes one's true nature as a “Thetan,” immortal spirit transcending matter, energy, space, and time. Achieving this state enables the spirit to escape the cycle of birth and death, to operate independently of the physical universe and become one with god.

- Why Evil?

Painful experiences and harmful acts in one’s pre-birth, current, and past lives become imprinted in the reactive mind and lead to irrational behavior. Departures from rational thought and untrue ideas

("Aberrations") can result in wrongdoing.

• Salvation

Salvation is achieved through the practices and techniques of Scientology, the ultimate goal of which is to realize one's true nature as an immortal spirit, a Thetan. The path to salvation, or enlightenment, includes achieving states of increasingly greater mental awareness. This is a ladder in which the candidate may climb starting at "Pre-Clear," then moving up to "Clear," and ultimately climbing to the top top of the ladder where "Operating Thetan" exist. An Operating Thetan is a spirit who can control matter, energy, space, time, thought, and life (an Alchemist). Practitioners ("Auditors") are regarded as ministers and counselors who assist others to achieve self-enlightenment. Auditors help others to identify their pre-birth, current, and past-life disturbances, which are obstacles to happiness and spiritual enlightenment.

• Undeserved Suffering

Suffering occurs as part of the spirit's entrapment here in the physical universe. Only when the individual is aware of his spiritual nature can he identify his barriers within the universe and overcome them, rising out of a lower state and into a higher state of happiness and freedom.

• Contemporary Issues

Based on the belief that you cannot free yourself spiritually without working to free others, Scientology has founded and supports many organizations for social betterment, particularly in the areas of drug abuse, crime, psychiatric abuse, government abuse of law, human rights, religious freedom, education, and morality. Scientology strongly favors the use of their methodology for spiritual/mental healing over the use of conventional treatment.

From my personal experience in the occult, Scientology is a business enterprise that's disguised as a religion founded by a former fiction writer (L. Ron Hubbard). As all religions, it too is a false religion, and manipulator for a satanic and occult agenda.

To reach, "Clear," one will pay $50,000 or $250.00 an hour to be hypnotized and told you're happy (They call it "Clearing"). $380,000 is a conservative estimate for the total cost of moving all the way up the Scientology hierarchal ladder. When Hubbard first created this "Ladder based" deity, he didn't even believe in his own "Doctrine." He moved this doctrine forward, just to see if individuals would follow it, believe in it, and give him money for it. Essentially, it was and is, an ultimate, successful religious occult, scam.

Hubbard was a known pedophile and Satanist. It appears that in our American history, all of church founders were associated with Satan and/or had Luciferian knowledge. Most were pedophiles and abused children with out punishment. I believe this final photo will illustrate what this occult life is all about. Hubbard has his hands on an innocent girl who was tortured (as most kids on the compound are). All secret societies and religions must be abolished, for there is no good in them. They are all organizations built on deceit, in efforts to confuse and destroy one's soul.

Aleister Crowley

He was called "Great Beast 666" and known by the press as the "Wickedest Man in History." He is the father of Scientology and several other occults. The United States government runs on his philosophy along with military, secret society and global entertainment. This is occultist, Aleister Crowley, and though thought more as a theatrical occultist, Aleister Crowley is at the heart of one of the most influential movements of the 20th and 21st centuries, and will be for centuries to come. He had ties with some of the world's most powerful figures. He was even a British spy working with Intelligence Agency MI-5.

Although he is considered to be the most influential occultist of the 20th century and was recognized by the BBC as the 73rd "Greatest Briton of all time," most people have never heard of Aleister Crowley. The English occultist, mystic and ceremonial magician is incredibly popular in some circles (occultists, artists, celebrities, etc.) but completely unknown to the average person. And why should he be known? What did he accomplish? Simply put, he foreshadowed the radical philosophical change that would sweep the Western civilization during the 20th century. By founding the philosophy of Thelema and announcing the coming of a New Aeon, Crowley did not only formulate the major philosophical precepts of the 21st century, he was part of the Illuminist motor that promoted it.

Because of Crowley's sexual rituals, drug consumption and dabbling in Black Magick (he introduced the letter "K" at the end of "Magic" to differentiate it from the entertainment kind), Crowley was maligned and heavily criticized by the press during his lifetime. However, declassified documents have since revealed that the "Great Beast 666" led a double life: Crowley apparently maintained ties with the British Government and worked with the British intelligence and high-ranking members of the American Government. The Ordo Templi Orientis (O.T.O.) was the secret society he popularized, and within O.T.O.'s ranks, some of the most influential people of the time were apart of it. Crowley used their power to further the advancement of its (O.T.O.) main philosophy: The Thelema.

No man is simply born evil. Evil is implanted through a chain of events that stem from childhood. So who is Aleister Crowley? Well, the answer is, he's not Aleister Crowley. He was born Edward Alexander, and he was born into a wealthy and religious family. His parents were part of the Exclusive Brethren, a conservative faction of the Christian denomination called the Plymouth Brethren. His father, a traveling preacher for his sect, was particularly devout and was said to read a chapter from the Bible to his wife and son every day after breakfast. While Crowley maintained a good relationship with his father, he despised his mother, who described him as "The beast," a name he later adopted as his life-long moniker. So as you can see, the relationship with his mother is what changed a young man into a hateful disturbed man.

After losing his father to lung cancer at age 11, Crowley inherited the family fortune and went on studying English literature at Trinity College in Cambridge. It is during those academic years that Crowley began renouncing and even rebelling against his Christian background. He seriously questioned the Bible, partook in sexual activities with local girls and prostitutes and developed an acute interest in occultism. Another symbolic step towards his self-affirmation was his name change from Edward Alexander to Aleister. Here's an excerpt from his autobiography describing the reasons behind his name change:

"For many years I had loathed being called Alick, partly because of the unpleasant sound and sight of the word, partly because it was the name by which my mother called me. Edward did not seem to suit me and the diminutives Ted or Ned were even less appropriate. Alexander was too long and Sandy suggested tow hair and freckles. I had read in some book or other that the most favorable name for becoming famous was one consisting of a dactyl followed by a spondee, as at the end of a hexameter: like Jeremy Taylor. Aleister Crowley fulfilled these conditions and Aleister is the Gaelic form of Alexander. To adopt it would satisfy my romantic ideals. The atrocious spelling A-L-E-I-S-T-E-R was suggested as the correct form by Cousin Gregor, who ought to have known better. In any case, A-L-A-I-S-D-A-I-R makes a very bad dactyl. For these reasons I saddled myself with my present nom-de-guerre—I can't say that I feel sure that I facilitated the process of becoming famous. I should doubtless have done so, whatever name I had chosen."

Crowley's most significant experiences of his youth were his homosexual relations which, according to his later biographer Lawrence Sutin, led him to an "Encounter with an immanent deity". This triggered in him a great interest in occultism, secret societies and, more specifically, what he will later call Sex Magick.

In his late twenties, Crowley joined many esoteric groups where he was either admired, rising high in ranks, or he was despised and expelled. Inspired by Arthur E. Waite's book, The Book of Black Magic and of Pacts, Crowley joined the Hermetic Order of the Golden Dawn, known as the "Great White Brotherhood" in 1898. This secret society held within its membership elite and highly influential members of society. There he was introduced to ceremonial magic and the ritualistic usage of drugs.

In 1899, he reportedly became a member of the Old George Pickingil witch coven. However, he was not welcomed for long as a result of his irresponsible attitude and his inclinations toward homosexuality (which was shocking at that time, even to witches). The priestess of his coven later described him as "A dirty minded, evilly-disposed and vicious little monster!"

Crowley also became a high-ranking Freemason, joining several lodges and acquiring several Masonic degrees. In his autobiography, Crowley described his attainment of the 33rd (and last) degree of the Scottish Rite in Mexico:

"Don Jesus Medina, a descendant of the great duke of Armada fame, and one of the highest chiefs of Scottish Rite free-masonry. My cabbalistic knowledge being already profound by current standards, he thought me worthy of the highest initiation in his power to confer; special powers were obtained in view of my limited sojourn, and I was pushed rapidly through and admitted to the thirty-third and last degree before I left the country."

With the help of prominent author and Freemason John Yarker, Crowley obtained other Masonic degrees including the 3° In France by the Anglo-Saxon Lodge No. 343, 33° of the irregular 'Cerneau' Scottish Rite and 90°/95° of the Rite of Memphis/Misraim. According to the United Grand Lodge of England however, whose recognition is generally considered the standard for Masonic validity, none of these Masonic bodies were considered regular and he was never considered an official Freemason.

In 1904, Crowley and his new wife Rose visited Egypt for their honeymoon. It is during this trip that he wrote his most famous book, Liber Legis, The Book of the Law, which would become the cornerstone of his life.

According to his own account, Crowley's wife led him into a museum in Cairo where she showed him a 7th century BCE mortuary stele known as the Stele of Ankh-ef-en-Khonsu (which will be later revered as the Stele of Revealing). Crowley was astounded by the exhibit's number: 666, the number of the Beast in the Book of Revelation.

Later during their stay in Egypt, Crowley and Rose took part in a magical ritual during which he alleges to have received a message from an entity named Aiwass. As a result of this communication, Crowley wrote the first three chapters of the Book of the Law, a mystical text which, he believed, would revolutionize the future of mankind.

"It announced the advent of a new eon in which Crowley has become the priest-prince of a new religion, the Age of Horus. He was to formulate a link between humanity and the "Solar-spiritual force, during which the god Horus would preside for the next two thousand years over the evolution of consciousness on this planet.

The message from Aiwaz, whom Crowley understood to be his own guardian angel, convinced him that his mission in life was to give the coup de grace to the Age of Osiris with its moribund appendage, the Christian faith, and build on the ruins a new religion based on the law of the Thelema (Greek for 'Will').

According to Crowley's protégé Kenneth Grant, anyone possessing the capacity for understanding the language of symbolism "will be staggered with the accuracy of the summary of the spirit of the eon". In other words, the same way the Bible ruled over Western Civilization during the past two millenniums, the Thelema would describe the spirit of the next two thousand years.

I've studied this book with great extent, and with my advanced knowledge under the consumption of the Book of the Law, I can confidently tell you that Aleister Crowley was self-centered and full of himself. I completely understand his philosophy because I too carry his passion, except, my passion is for God and exposing that which is dark and evil. Crowley turned his back on God as most children of preachers do. Meaning his passion (still strong in nature) became a passion to deceive and alter the minds of those who reads The Book of the Law, or who became his followers. Crowley was adamant about becoming famous, and he would sell his soul to do it.

"In the Aeon of Horus the dualistic approach to religion will be transcended through the abolition of the present notion of a God external to oneself. The two will be united. "Man will no longer worship God as an external factor, as in Paganism, or as an internal state of consciousness, as in Christianity, but will realize his identity with God." The new Aeon of Horus, based on the union of the male and female polarities, will involve the magical use of semen and ecstasy, culminating in an apotheosis of matter – "in the realization of the old Gnostic notion that matter is not dual but one with the Spirit" — symbolized by the androgynous Baphomet of the Templars and the Illuminati."

This philosophy would change the world into darkness as it is relevant in all walks of life today. Above, Artist, Jay-Z wears a sweatshirt that says, "Do What Thou Wilt." Jay-Z is a man who has confessed to never reading the bible, and yet he wears a sweatshirt that is the most famous saying out of The Book of the Law.

The Book of the Law became the basis of Thelema, which revolved around three key philosophical ideas:

- 1- Do what thou wilt shall be the whole of the Law;
- 2- Love is the law, Love under will;
- 3- Every man and every woman is a star.

"Do What Thou Wilt" means "Do what you want," therefore describing an egoistic quest for instant gratification and pleasure. However, initiates of the philosophy disagree with this description of the axiom as they believe it is meant to be interpreted on a metaphysical level. Thelema is Greek for "The Will." The main aim of this philosophy is the realization of one's True Will, which is described as one's "Higher calling," or purpose in life, regardless of ethical or moral barriers.

The unicursal hexagram, main symbol of the Thelema

"Do What Thou Wilt," promotes irresponsibility in life, which leads to irresponsibility towards God's Commands. If we listen to Crowley, there would be no reason for the Exodus, because we are our own star meaning we are miniature gods who should live accordingly. You have a choice.

Today, Crowley is regarded as either a misunderstood mystical genius or a depraved charlatan, a prophet for an era of spiritual enlightenment or a Satanic harbinger of the Anti-Christ, an agent for the sexual liberation of mankind or drug-addicted pederast. Were his spiritual visions true? Yes, they were, for all the goyim who were conned into following his teachings. Mainstream culture, values and spirituality is now compromised.
